Budapest Raided By Reds; British Hit at Frankfurt

Two Canadian Squadrons in Attack on Germany, One Led by Vancouver Man—Large Fires Started—Two Enemy Planes Shot Down In Raid Over England

Nazi Flyers Drop Leaflets

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Thursday) (CP). — Russian bombers again attacked Budapest, Hungary's capital, during the night and there were indications that Germany and other Nazi-held continental territories also were under assault by the R.A.F. and the Red Air Force.

The Berlin radio announced that Budapest has been bombed. Other places in Hungary also were attacked, but damage was described as slight.

Sudden radio shutdowns last night in Berlin, Paris, Budapest and old Czecho-Slovakia was the first clue of possible two-directional assaults.

The evidence of air raids was most positive in Budapest, where the announcer in his last words before going off the air told of an alert. Next heard from the Budapest transmitter were air-raid precautions orders in code.

ORDERS GIVEN

An hour and a half after the programmes stopped shortly before 10 p.m., the orders, followed by intervals of silence, were the only demonstration of activity on the Budapest wave length.

The German-controlled Czech stations closed down are at Prague and Bratislava.

The Berlin sender cut off in the midst of broadcasts for German home consumption at 7:30 p.m. and Budapest went silent soon after except for code messages telling what to do in an air raid.

Bratislava and Prague went out about the same time as Budapest.

Airmen of U.S. Take Offensive At Gizo Island

Japanese Shore Installations Bombed—American Positions Being Consolidated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP).—United States air forces, turning once more to the offensive in the Solomon Islands, bombed and strafed Japanese shore installations on Gizo Island, 215 miles northwest of the United States base on Guadalcanal, the Navy Department announced tonight.

The operation was carried out last Sunday without any resistance from the enemy and apparently marked the start of a new phase of offensive activity in the conquest of the Solomons. Ever since the Solomons invasion started August 7, it has been expected that consolidations of American positions in the southeastern section of the islands would be followed by attacks on Japanese positions to the northwest.

CONTINUE MOPPING UP

The navy communique disclosing the aerial assault on Gizo said that the process of mopping up enemy units in Guadalcanal was continuing. Marines were reported seeking out and attacking Japanese detach-

GOVERNMENT TO CLOSE OIL WELL

Drilling at Commotion Creek To Be Discontinued, Says Hon. H. Anscomb

After drilling to a depth of 6,909 feet at a cost of more than $600,000, the Provincial Government has decided to close down the Commotion Creek oil well.

In a statement issued yesterday, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Mines, said that the present administration, after drilling 1,367 feet without results, and in view of a recent report of a Federal Government geologist that "the well has no further prospects at depth," had come to this decision.

In his statement the minister said that the present Government on taking office had been confronted with the problem of whether it should continue the development of the well at that time at a depth of 5,542 feet "without any conclusive results." Believing that before expending further public money, the best available advice should be obtained, the Government consulted Dr. G. S. Hume, a Dominion Government oil geologist. After investigation of all the data then available, Dr. Hume recommended that drilling be continued for another 1,000 feet.

PROVISION MADE

"The Government included in its estimates for the period 1942-43 the sum of $100,000 for that purpose," the statement continued. "During the ensuing period that work has been undertaken and we are today at a depth of 6,909 feet."

Quoting from a report of the geologist to the Federal Government, covering all oil areas in Northern British Columbia, and with particular reference to Commotion Creek,

Jail Hostages After Bombing

LONDON, Sept. 9 (CP).—A Reuter's correspondent in Stockholm today quoted a Brussels dispatch as saying fifty prominent citizens of the Belgian capital had been arrested as hostages following the throwing of a bomb in a cinema during the showing of a German Eastern Front film.

One girl in the audience was killed and many persons wounded. German occupation authorities ordered the Municipality of Brussels to pay damages to the cinema and deliver 5,000 bicycles to the Germans, the dispatch said.

Arrest 400 At Bombay And Wardha

BOMBAY, Sept. 9 (CP).—A wave of disturbances in various parts of India marked the end of the first month of Mohandas K. Gandhi's detention today, and reports said several persons had been wounded by gunfire. No deaths were reported.

Three hundred and fifty persons were arrested here and fifty in Wardha. Sixty persons were arrested in the Northwest Frontier Province in the first disturbances there.

Gandhi and other leaders of the All-India Congress were detained after the Congress began a civil disobedience campaign to win immediate Indian independence.

Police and troops patrolled the streets of New Delhi.

At Karachi, nine Hurs were hanged for various offences, making a total of sixty-nine executed since the Government proclaimed martial law in dealing with these fanatical tribesmen.

FIRE UNDER CONTROL

NANAIMO, B.C., Sept. 9 (CP).—Reports reaching here late today said a large slash fire which burned out of control in the limits of the Comox Logging Company west of Ladysmith had now been brought under control by a company crew recruited to fight the blaze. Some other, smaller fires also are being fought, including an outbreak at East Wellington.

All Saved When Transport Swept By Fire in Convoy

Former Luxury Liner Manhattan Towed to Port a Blackened Hulk—Passengers and Crew Rescued by Escorting Warships With Flames Racing From Stem to Stern

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP).—Tales of cool heroism and daring rescue were told today by survivors of the United States Navy transport Wakefield—once the $10,000,000 liner Manhattan—gutted last Thursday night by a fire which swept through that great vessel as though it had been "a barn full of hay."

First word of the fire, which occurred somewhere on the Atlantic while the transport was traveling in convoy to an east coast United States port, was given out by the Navy Department here. It said a preliminary check-up indicated that all the crew and passengers, totaling about 1,600, had been saved, although several were injured.

The passengers included civilians, and presumably sailors, while the vessel had a normal crew of 500 to 700 men. She was skippered by Cmdr. Harold Gardner Bradbury, of Port Angeles, Wash.

FIGHT THE FLAMES

After escorting warships in the convoy had taken all the passengers and personnel off, and the intensity of the fire had decreased somewhat, Cmdr. Bradbury led a fire-fighting party back aboard the stricken vessel and brought the flames under control. The blackened hulk was then towed to port. Officials have not yet determined the cause of the fire.

At an east coast port, survivors gave vivid word pictures of the rescue scene—quick action to flood the explosive magazine and toss shells into the sea, marines clambering aboard to prevent any panic, a destroyer coming alongside and smash-

Boy Buried in Sandpit an Hour

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 9 (AP).—An eight-year-old boy was buried for an hour in a sandpit here today, but was extricated without injury, thanks to quick thinking by a pit worker.

The boy, Patrick Parrish, slipped into the pit when he ventured too near a conveyor. The sand caved, covered his head a foot or more. The workman, G. W. Robelfs, scooped away the sand, keeping Patrick's nose free until help arrived.

BULLETINS

CRASHES IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 10 (Thursday) (AP).—A British bomber was reported today to have crashed five days ago on a mountain in North Sweden. Three occupants were killed when the plane caught fire. The two pilots wandered in the barren land for five days before being rescued. The survivors were in a serious condition.

ADMITS U.S. STRONG

TOKIO (From Japanese Broadcasts), Sept. 10 (Thursday) (AP).—Admiral Sankichi Takahashi, retired former commander of the Japanese combined fleet, said in an interview with the newspaper Nichi Nichi today that the Japanese must not make the mistake of considering the United States a "weak enemy."

He said Japan's victories in the Pacific were not due to weakness of the United States, but to thorough training and preparations of Japanese forces. The United States is preparing for a long war, he declared, therefore the Japanese must not be overconfident, but must be ready to meet any contingencies.

Double Time For Seventh Day of Work

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP). — President Roosevelt signed an executive order today eliminating payment of double-time rates for work on Saturday, Sunday, or holidays, as such.

The order permits double-time for a seventh consecutive day of work, but not for any particular day of the week as such. The days of the week lose their identity for wage-determining purposes.

The action, the White House said, is in line with pledges given to the President several months ago by A.F.L. President William Green and C.I.O. President Philip Murray.

"Many unions," said the announcement, "have already modified their contracts to put this pledge into effect, and in order to make the practice universal the order has been issued."

The White House announcement said the double-time for the seventh day of work was to encourage, in the interest of efficiency, one day of rest in seven. The order permits payment for work over forty hours a week at the rate of time and a half, as provided in the Wage-Hour Act.

NEWSMAN APPOINTED

QUEBEC, Sept. 9 (CP).—Jean Marc Denault, Quebec newspaperman, has been appointed assistant provincial publicist, it was announced today.

New Bomber Planes Sink Two Vessels

LONDON, Sept. 9 (CP) — R.A.F. Whirlwinds, Britain's newest fighter-bombers, sank two armed trawlers off Cap de la Hague, near Cherbourg, today when they made their first foray.

Escorted by Spitfires, the Whirlwinds swooped to attack four trawlers attempting to sneak from De la Hague to the island of Alderney.

Bursts of cannon fire set two of the ships afire and bombs finished them. The Whirlwinds have been modified to carry two bombs.

The Whirlwind was built as a single-seater, twin-engined fighter with a speed of more than 400 miles an hour. Its long range for a fighter and heavy armament—four cannon in the nose—made it suitable for the switch.

Other fighters similarly converted and the Hurricanes and Kittyhawks.

BIG FIRES IN TOBRUK DOCKS

Allies Smash at Axis Supply Lines With Heavy Bombers

CAIRO, Sept. 9 (AP).—Ground activity in the Western Desert remained at a standstill today, but Allied air forces smashed again at Axis supply lines with heavy raids last night on the Salum-Matruh road and on the port of Tobruk, which already had been pounded with 3,000 tons of bombs since June 23.

Both medium and heavy bombers were included in a "big force" which attacked Tobruk, leaving huge fires raging in the dock area and near fuel installations, it was learned tonight.

The attack on the Salum-Matruh road was announced in today's communique, which said a number of trucks, gasoline carriers and staff cars were destroyed. Allied planes shot down three German planes in an air fight over enemy territory and destroyed two other enemy planes in other actions.

The communique also announced that bomber and torpedo planes had scored hits on an enemy destroyer and two merchant vessels during an attack on a convoy in the Central Mediterranean, Monday night. One of the vessels was left with a heavy list and with black smoke pouring from its stern.

Plane Output In U.S. Soars

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 9 (AP).—Robert P. Patterson, under-secretary of war, said today tank production in the United States has reached "an impressive figure," and that the country turned out more warplanes last month than Germany, Japan and Italy combined.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers' Convention, Patterson added that tank production would be doubled in December and "we are putting our best efforts into bringing out new planes of designs far superior to any that we have now."

ELECTED MODERATOR

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Sept. 9 (CP).—Rev. J. R. P. Sclater, of Toronto, tonight was elected moderator of the United Church of Canada at the tenth general council. He succeeds Rev. Aubrey S. Tuttle. Dr. Sclater is pastor of Old St. Andrew's United Church, Toronto.

Restrict Use of Lumber in Industry Classed Essential

Prohibit Some Exports, Permit Price Increases, Provide Manpower in Drastic New Controls

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—Munitions Minister Howe said tonight that Canada faces "the gravest timber shortage in her history," and announced an eight-point Governmental programme to assist operators in stimulating output, and to curtail civilian use of forest products.

In the statement, released through the Munitions and Supply Department, Mr. Howe said the shortage was caused by "enormous war demands from the United States" and by a drop in production this year.

The Munitions Minister appealed to every man in the industry, from the obscure logger or millhand to the most widely-known operator, to "roll up his sleeves and boost production."

LABOR SHORTAGE

Production in 1941 was approximately 5,000,000,000 feet, but because of the labor shortage 1942 production may be substantially less, he added. Commitments for the remaining four months of the year called for delivery of 1,040,000,000 board feet for war purposes, "of which about three-quarters is for Britain, the United States and other Allied nations."

Unless production was boosted, the statement said, "these commitments will use up virtually all the

Japanese Push Through Range In New Guinea

Within Forty-Four Miles of Port Moresby by Flanking Moves

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 10 (Thursday) (CP).—Japanese troops have pushed through the Owen Stanley Mountains and now are less than forty-four miles from the big Allied base of Port Moresby, keystone of New Guinea defences, an Allied communique said today.

The enemy "successfully outflanked our positions at Myola" on the northern side of the mountains, reached Efogi on the southern side only forty-four miles from Port Moresby, and did still another outflanking movement, the Allied Command announced.

ON NARROW PASS

"Fighting is now on the south along a narrow trail which leads across a mountainous divide," the communique said.

Allied airplanes bombed and strafed the enemy in co-operation with ground forces which were fighting "tenaciously and gallantly under conditions of extraordinary hardship and difficulty," the war bulletin said.

The Allied defence forces were commanded by Lieut.-Gen. S. F. Rowell, former deputy chief of the Australian General Staff.

The drive to Efogi represented a sixteen-mile advance from Kokoda where the Japanese began their drive several days ago.

Dispatches from the front said the enemy already "has covered the toughest part" of the tortuous trail leading to Port Moresby.

Efogi is forty-four miles by air from Port Moresby and fifty-three by trail. The enemy faces several mountain ranges before reaching comparatively level ground leading to the Allied base.

PARTICULARLY ADAPTED

While acknowledging that the fighting was under the worst possible conditions, officials here also pointed out that the Japanese thus far had shown a particular adaptability to this type of fighting.

Strikers Not Allowed to Change Jobs

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—The Dominion Labor Department announced tonight that instructions have been issued by the National Selective Service Branch—responsible for allocation of manpower—that permits for change of jobs are to be refused persons involved in a strike at the Montreal plant of Imperial Tobacco Co., Ltd.

It was the first time that these new powers of the Selective Service authority have been imposed in connection with a strike.

The department said it was advised today of the strike, involving 2,700 workers. The Federal Labor Department, in co-operation with the Quebec Provincial Labor Department, is making efforts to reach a settlement.

The statement issued said:

"Information received indicated that the strike is an illegal one and that in the circumstances employees involved will not be free to take employment elsewhere."

War Costs in Great Britain Now Total $44,500,000,000

Commons Approves Credit of $4,450,000,000; 40 Per Cent of Costs Coming From Taxation

LONDON, Sept. 9 (AP). — The House of Commons today approved a credit of £1,000,000,000 ($4,450,000,000) and heard the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Kingsley Wood, declare that the presence of United States troops in Britain and Australia gave the Empire an opportunity for "reciprocal aid to those who helped us in our hour of greatest need."

Sir Kingsley in proposing the credit explained that Britain's war expenditure in recent weeks had averaged £12,250,000 a day and had increased by £500,000 a day since June.

With today's action, Parliament now has approved credits totaling £11,050,000,000 since the war began.

Sir Kingsley said the Government expenditure on goods and services probably would absorb 54 per cent of Britain's national resources this year compared with 44 per cent in 1940.

HUGE COST

"Three years of war—have cost us £10,000,000,000 and, including the cost of the debt and our normal peacetime services, our total expenditures have been £12,100,000,000," he said.

"Of that last huge total we have met 40 per cent out of taxation."

Praising Britons for assuming the burden of heavy taxation, he said the 1942 taxation probably would take about 40 per cent of the national income compared with 33 per cent in 1940.

A Government White Paper showed the national debt was £14,073,483,259 as of March 31, 1942.

Give Up Two Populated Places But at High Cost To Nazis—Enemy Breaks Through Northwest Outskirts of Novorossisk—Rifle Unit Takes Toll of Tanks

Soviets Facing Big Odds

MOSCOW, Sept. 10 (Thursday) (AP).—Massed German tanks and infantry smashing in a frontal assault toward the western gates of Stalingrad forced the Red Army to give up two more populated places in the third Russian retreat in as many days, an official announcement said early today.

German troops also "broke into the northwestern outskirts" of Novorossisk, Soviet Black Sea naval base in the Caucasus which the Germans claimed capturing Sunday, despite "tremendous losses in men and material," the communique acknowledged.

Courageous Red Army men trying to make a "Red Verdun" of Stalingrad were reported fighting against tanks with only rifles, but the tremendous German armored columns attacking frontally were creeping closer daily to the imperilled Volga River city.

REPULSING ATTACKS

Southwest of Stalingrad the Russians said their troops were repulsing constant attacks and that at least twenty-one more Nazi tanks had been destroyed, and three German-Rumanian infantry companies annihilated.

The Russians, fighting against numerical and mechanical odds west of the city had fought two days to hold the two populated places before yielding the communique said. One rifle unit was said to have destroyed ten German tanks, fourteen guns and 300 enemy troops in this losing battle.

Nazi seizure of Stalingrad would imperil the whole Red Army military structure, since it dominates the Volga supply line to the Middle East and is the link between Russia's central and southern armies.

Soviet artillery turned back a preliminary thrust by armored vanguards of the divisions arrayed west of Stalingrad and see-saw fighting for a village cost the invaders five tanks and about 450 officers and men, the Soviet Information Bureau said.

Counter-attacking Red Army tanks were declared to have upset a flanking offensive on the steppes southwest of Stalingrad.

"Nine German tanks were disabled and a company of Hitlerites annihilated," it was announced.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Sept. 9.—No desire for criticism of the Churchill War Cabinet's conduct of the war has been displayed by the House of Commons says The Times, editorially. Obviously, recent tendencies have been favorable to the United Nations except in the Soviet Union, where, however, the end of the campaigning season is now not far off.

The United States is recovering the sea power it lost at Pearl Harbor. The Egyptian campaign has begun well and the defence of Egypt is insured for months to come. Formation of a new British command for Iraq and Persia should assist Russia's defence in the East. Decisions taken recently in London and Moscow should in time show how the Allies are preparing for victory.

What is wanted now, however, says The Times, is a war plan that will form inseparable unity with the Soviet Union. For the moment, on the face of things, such a plan is lacking, and with Russia locked in a mortal struggle while Britain and United States are still only in the phase of getting ready, its preparation must be difficult.

The Germans have intensified their efforts to take Stalingrad, bringing up more and more reinforcements, tanks, aircraft and infantry. The Russians have made another withdrawal westward of the city. The Moscow correspondent of The Times reports 3,000 Nazis have been killed in a few days' fighting here.

Southwest of the city, also, fighting has grown fiercer and the sound of gunfire never ceases. The Nazis now deny they have reached the city, says the Stockholm correspondent, but they are bombing it continuously and doing heavy damage. The battle is nearing its peak and

FIRE DESTROYS HISTORIC HOUSE

ASHCROFT, B.C., Sept. 9 (CP).—The historic Twenty Mile House, on the Cariboo Road, twenty miles north of Ashcroft, has been destroyed by fire with the loss of all its contents.

The blaze broke out while the building was being fumigated.

Part of Twenty Mile House was built in the early 60's and a more modern addition was constructed in 1886.

SOVIETS CAUSE HEAVY LOSSES

Annihilate 70 Per Cent of Nazi Effectiveness Since May 1

MOSCOW, Sept. 10 (Thursday), (AP).—A special Russian announcement said today that seventy-three enemy divisions were routed by the Soviet Army in fighting on the Russian front from May 1 to August 31.

The Soviet Bureau of Information statement said that during the same period forty-two Soviet rifle divisions and twenty-five brigades, of which fourteen were tank units, suffered considerable losses.

The announcement said that 70 per cent of the fighting effectives of the routed enemy divisions had been annihilated.

The bureau listed fifty-four German divisions that were routed, comprising thirty-four infantry divisions, four motorized, two motorized S.S. (Elite Guard), two mountain infantry and twelve tank divisions.

Other Axis divisions routed were:

Rumanian—Five infantry, two mountain, one cavalry.

Hungarian—Five infantry, one tank.

Italian—Two infantry, one motorized, one alpine.

Slovak—One motorized.

Also routed, the announcement said, was a "legion of Danish Hitlerites."

In addition, the announcement said, twenty-one German infantry divisions suffered severe losses—"from 40 to 50 per cent of their effectives"—in the same period.

BAN ELECTRIC HEATERS SOON

Power Shortage Forces Order in Ottawa—Other Restrictions

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—Curtailment of the use of electricity in Ontario and Quebec homes is anticipated in informed quarters as the next move in the Government's plan to make more power available for essential war industries.

Restrictions which will apply to domestic consumers in Ottawa effective October 1 were announced today by S. W. Canniff, general manager of the Ottawa Hydro Electrict Commission.

"These restrictions are part of a general plan," Mr. Caniff told The Canadian Press.

An official announcement is expected within a few days. In the meantime authorities in the capital declined to disclose to what extent power saving action would be voluntary or compulsory. One plan which is understood to have received consideration is to ask or require domestic consumers to decrease their use of electricity by a certain percentage.

HEATERS BANNED

In Ottawa use of electric heaters in homes will be banned and store window lighting reduced to a minimum, Mr. Caniff said. Stores will not be allowed to light their windows for advertising purposes and use of electric signs will be sharply curtailed.

Consideration is also being given to reducing street lighting, but no orders have been received yet concerning this, Mr. Caniff said.

In Toronto yesterday W. L. Houck, vice-chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, said Ontario will face a power shortage of from 200,000 to 300,000 horsepower this Fall.

SPECIAL MEASURES

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (CP).—Dr. T. H. Hogg, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, today announced special emergency measures to restrict use of electrical power in Southern Ontario. They will become effective immediately on instructions from the Federal Power Controller.

"All domestic users in the power shortage area are being asked to co-operate by using electricity for only essential purposes," Dr. Hogg said.

"These emergency instructions, preceding the Power Controller's limiting order now being prepared, are the result of sudden power shortages which were not expected until the latter part of this month."

He said the commission had been forced to make heavy load reductions today and yesterday, some of which have unavoidably affected war industry.

Southern Ontario municipalities have been advised to curtail power for non-essential purposes. The amount of curtailment will vary from day to day depending upon the weather conditions. All domestic users are being asked to co-operate.

ARREST GERMAN VETERAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP).—The arrest of Johannes Kroeger, forty-four, German war veteran, on a complaint alleging violation of the wartime espionage law was announced today by P. E. Foxworth, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

PLAN FOR TAG DAY

The executive committee of the Victoria Branch of the B.C. Channel Islands Society will meet at the home of Mrs. D. J. Mugford, 531 Monterey Avenue, tonight at 8 o'clock to make final arrangements for the tag day, September 19.

STAGE CONCERT FOR BLIND MAN

Four Servicemen Put On Impromptu Street Song And Dance

PORTLAND, Sept. 9 (AP).—Two soldiers and two sailors invaded a downtown intersection today, borrowed a blind man's accordion and turned over to him cap-fulls of coins handed out by a crowd of spectators at their impromptu concert and square dance.

Witnesses said that the four servicemen halted as the blind man shuffled past them, playing. One broke into song, then slipped the instrument's shoulder straps from the old man and put them on himself.

The soldier eyed the battered old box and said, "Boy, I ain't held one of these here groan boxes since I called squah dancin' in No'th Ca'linah."

Then he began to play and his companions executed the dances.

The crowd increased.

The dancing ended and the soldier started singing, with the other three "passing the hat." Once around the crowd and each emptied his cap into the old man's pocket, then started out again. The soldier kept on singing.

Finally he paused, slipped out of the harness and gave the accordion back to its owner, who was fairly weighted down with coins. The soldier and his companions drifted into the crowd. No one asked their names but, it was evident, all were from the South.

PENSIONERS TO MEET

The Victoria Branch of the Canadian Pensioners' Association will hold its monthly meeting on Friday at 7:30 p.m. All members are requested to attend.

A.R.P. Activities

District 4—All wardens of District 4 are requested to attend a meeting to be held in the Municipal Hall on Friday at 7:30 p.m. For the information of all wardens who have not yet received their respirators, the A.R.P. office at the Municipal Hall will be open for this purpose on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings between 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

NEW CEILINGS ON SOME FISH PRICES

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—New ceiling prices for processors of frozen salmon, fresh and frozen soles, brills and witches were levied in an order announced tonight by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board's food administration.

The ceilings were imposed, the board said, to encourage the processing of new varieties of fish to replace canned salmon and canned herring. All the new varieties are nutritious foods, although the use of some of them has been overshadowed by the popularity of salmon, herring, halibut and other species.

The board said the higher prices allowed to processors will encourage fishermen to haul the less well-known fish, but that since the work was seasonal it will not cause diversion of labor or interfere with the catch of other fish.

A stimulated Canadian consumer interest in these "rarer" catches was necessitated, board members said, because the entire Canadian output of canned salmon and canned herring has been earmarked for Great Britain.

RESTRICT USE OF CANADIAN LUMBER

lumber obtained from Canada's forests during the balance of this year."

Mr. Howe said "this means that we will have no new lumber to spare for the civilian. Any the civilian gets must come from inventories, mainly in Eastern Canada.

"The seriousness of the situation is underlined by the need for extra storage facilities for the bumper grain crop in the West. Limited quantities of lumber must be made available for building these storage facilities."

PROGRAMME GIVEN

The eight-point programme, worked out and to be administered by A. S. Nicholson, timber controller, was announced as follows in the department statement:

"1. Effective today, the lumber and logging industry is officially classed as an essential industry.

"2. The Director of National Selective Service (Elliot M. Little) will provide, at the earliest opportunity, more manpower, chiefly bush labor, for the year-round Pacific Coast timber area, and for Fall and Winter logging in the East.

"3. The use of timber by civilians, industries, railways and municipalities will be rigidly controlled. Restrictive measures will be announced shortly and more stringent control will be exercised over the use of forest products by the Dominion Government and its agencies.

"4. The production of newsprint will be controlled by the newsprint administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board (R. L. Weldon, of Montreal), to conserve power and labor and to divert pulpwood logs into the making of lumber. Already quantities of pulpwood logs have been shipped to the sawmills, and pulpwood camps are being switched over to the production of sawlogs.

"5. The export of logs from the Pacific Coast area to the pulp and paper mills on the United States Pacific Coast will be restricted drastically. These exports are now about 15,000,000 feet of hemlock and balsam logs per month. The export of fir logs is already prohibited.

"6. To spur production, price increases on certain grades of lumber will be permitted. These increases will be absorbed by the retailers and industrial users, and will not be passed on to the civilian consumer. Retailers may obtain relief if and when the squeeze is too great.

"7. A lumber division of the Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation will be set up immediately. With an experienced lumberman at its head, this division will provide financial assistance where and when it is required to stimulate economic production. No sound lumbering operation will be held up for lack of financing so long as it is practical and in the national interest.

"8. The general trading policies and customs of the industry will be maintained."

Mr. Howe said: "Maximum production of timber now constitutes one of our principal national necessities in the prosecution of the war. Last year the output was approximately 5,000,000,000 feet, of which about 2,250,000,000 feet were used in Canada, 1,250,000,000 exported to Britain, 1,250,000,000 sent to the United States, and 250,000,000 to other Allied countries.

"Because of the labor shortage, the 1942 production may be substantially less; at the same time, the demand has risen sharply. Unless the situation is corrected the war programme will suffer."

SAY ROMMEL MAY LOSE HIS COMMAND

ANKARA, Sept. 8 (Delayed), (AP).—A member of Wendell L. Willkie's party visiting Turkey, who asked not to be identified by name, said today that German officers captured in Africa had disclosed that German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel is suffering from some malady and may be relieved of his command.

The nature of the supposed disease was not stated.

These officers, captured in the recent tank battle in which Rommel's forces suffered serious losses, were quoted as saying the field marshal either has been returned to Germany by air, or is awaiting relief by some other commander.

YESTERDAY . . . IN ENTERTAINMENT
TODAY . . . IN COMMUNICATIONS

YESTERDAY, radio's task was to bring the world's greatest personalities, music, drama into millions of homes. Today, the voice of radio moves armies, navies, air armadas like pawns on a mighty chessboard.

Canadian Nickel has long contributed to the efficiency of radio communication. All radio tubes, and many other essential parts of transmitting and receiving equipment function better because of Nickel.

With the Empire at war, there is an increasing demand for Canadian Nickel for use in the radio and telephone equipment used in military communication.

In time of peace, Canadian Nickel assists industry to achieve increased efficiency and economy. In war, it is an important constituent in hundreds of devices which are essential tools of victory.

Restrictions on Use Of Copper Tightened

Other Non-Ferrous Metals Included in Order Hitting Electric, Gas, Water and Phone Installations—No New Signs

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—Drastic curtailment of the use of copper or other non-ferrous metals for the extension of public utility services was announced tonight by Munitions Minister Howe. Object of the curtailment is to conserve raw materials needed for munitions.

The conservation move was embodied in a new order, issued by Metals Controller George Bateman. Provisions of the order, as outlined in a statement from the Munitions and Supply Department, are as follows:

1. It prohibits any new installation of electric, gas, water or telephone service in Summer cottages and other seasonal residences.

2. It prohibits new installations of electric advertising or display signs.

3. It prohibits new lighting for city streets and highways.

4. It rules out all public utility service extensions to refreshment booths, seasonal places of business, carnivals, lawn socials, sports grounds or arenas, and other civilian places of entertainment.

5. It prohibits, except by permit, any new street railway lines or extensions to existing lines.

6. It prevents any home owner, whose dwelling is more than 250 feet from water and gas mains or power and telephone lines, from obtaining electricity, gas, or other public service or connection without a permit.

NEED PERMIT

In general, the order provides that no public utility, furnishing electrical, telephone, telegraph, electric railway, street car, water, sewage gas or steam service shall put into use any non-ferrous metal without a permit from Metals Controller Bateman.

Metals necessary for maintenance and repair, for emergency requirements of the armed forces, and for certain essential civilian and military direct connections from lines, leads and mains, are exempted, provided that installation costs do not exceed $500 and involve no more than 250 feet of cable, pipe or line, or alternatively not more than twenty pounds of non-ferrous metals.

The order also states that no construction involving use of non-ferrous metal may be undertaken by any utility company unless the minimum use is made of such metals, unless unnecessary construction is avoided, and unless prefabricated or less critical materials are used whenever possible in preference to [illegible] materials.

Mr. Bateman warned the public against building new homes or buying new electric stoves or other equipment before making certain utility services could be provided.

"If you expect to obtain gas, electrical or other utility services you should first consult your utility company," he declared.

Collection, separation and disposal of its own scrap by each utility company is made mandatory under the order.

the statement said that " . . . the well has no further prospect at depth. The fact that no gas or oil shows have occurred in the well thus becomes significant even though the Bullhead formation which is now being drilled is admittedly extremely hard and tight."

"Faced with that situation," Mr. Anscomb said in his statement, "the Government has now decided to close the well down and no further work will be undertaken.

"It should be remembered that several months ago the Provincial Government offered to the Dominion Government, without reserve or royalty, all the purported oil lands in Northern British Columbia for the period of the war and twelve months thereafter, in order to allow them to undertake a survey and drilling operations, so that if oil could be found the nation could secure the benefit of it as quickly as possible for war purposes."

WANTED—A FRASER

When the pretty film star, Elizabeth Fraser, arrived here to take part in "The Commandos Come at Dawn," she was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Derek Jonkers, who during her visit here found time to knit two sweaters for boys in the navy. Belonging to the Clan Fraser, Mrs. Jonkers will be particularly pleased if a Fraser wears the sweater; applicants bearing the right name will find the sweaters at Prince Robert House.

Schools Praised By U.S. Tourists

Submitting a detailed report of improvements effected during the Summer, J. S. McMillan, chairman of the building and grounds committee, told the Victoria School Board last night that, "generally speaking, we found all our schools in a most satisfactory condition for the school opening."

Mr. McMillan added that the grounds, as the new term opened, were looking very pretty indeed," and this comment elicited from F. G. Mulliner, chairman of the board, the remark that he had heard praise from tourists from the United States on the smart and colorful condition of the grounds at many Victoria schools.

"During the Summer many of them spoke appreciatively to me of the attractive appearance of our schools and grounds. In many instances, Californians told me our schools surpassed their own in this respect."

WOULD INSURE AGAINST RAIDS

School Board Plans to Take Out War Risk Policy—To Ask City for Funds

A recommendation that all Victoria School Board property be covered under the War Risk Insurance Scheme, to the value of $1,537,616.15, was approved by the board last night.

The recommendation was made by Austin Curtis, chairman of the finance committee, who explained that the premium would be $2,386.42, being at the rate of 15c per $100. The board will ask the City Council to provide in a supplementary extraordinary estimate the amount of the premium.

Mr. Curtis further recommended that the insurance be written through Rithet Consolidated, Limited. This company, he said, was the first agent to approach the board on the subject.

"It should be noted," Mr. Curtis added, "that the above figure includes foundations, et ceteras, in all buildings, the premium of which would be $195."

In the case of fire insurance, Mr. Curtis explained in noting the higher rate, the foundations of the buildings are not covered.

"And if the City Council does not approve," commented Trustee F. G. Mulliner, chairman, "I assume we are then relieved of the onus." Trustees agreed this likely was the way the matter would stand.

AIR LANGUAGE NEW AND MEATY

Young Men of Royal Air Force Are Coining Colorful English

By ALFRED WALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 9 (AP).—"Three [illegible] cheeseye on bumps and circuits. One bought it; the other two sent for a Burton. The station-master took a dim view and tore them off a strip. They'd taken along a shagbat wofficer, who was browned off. The queen bee was hopping mad."

Give up?

It's an R.A.F. man speaking. And it is the King's English . . . Well, the R.A.F.'s kind of King's English. Literally translated, here is what he said:

"Three unpopular individuals, all brand new pilot officers, crashed a worn-out airplane while practising circuits and landings. One was killed; the other two were reprimanded severely. The station commander disapproved strongly and roundly berated them. They had taken along with them a somewhat plain W.A.A.F. officer, who was bored. The station's W.A.A.F. commander was very angry."

Take thousands of eager, imaginative young men from all walks of life, train them to a fine edge and put them hard at work at the alternately exciting, dangerous or boresome job of winning a man-sized air war—and the chances are you'll get something new and meaty in verbal expression. The R.A.F. has produced it—and then some.

AT "NOUGHT FEET"

It took some little time to fathom that a "rhubarb" was a swift sortie by two Spitfires sweeping at "nought feet" over enemy territory, strafing anything military looking at sight. And that a "gun beat-up" was the thrilling operation of diving on a gun post, cannon and machine-guns blazing at the ground gunners; a "circus" was a big batch of German planes flying in formation; a "scramble," a low-altitude dogfight involving many planes. A man who was "binding" was complaining bitterly.

It became apparent before long that the R.A.F.'s "slanguage" was changing constantly, like any other robust and healthy thing. Some words had a brief period of popularity, then passed into the limbo of such forgotten air expressions as "joystick" or "bus" (for plane). Nowadays a plane always is "kite" or "aircraft." Other current R.A.F. slanguage:

"Duff," bad, rotten; "Gestapo," service police or intelligence officer; "brown job," army; "blue job," navy; "type," person (as a good type, a good fellow); "Spit," Spitfire; "Wimpey," Wellington; "get cracking," get a move on; "squirt," burst of fire; "gong," decoration.

INSIDE INFORMATION

"Gen" means the real, inside information on anything. Thus, "duff gen" means wrong information. The "chief plumber" is chief engineer; "quack," is the doctor; "second dickey" is co-pilot; "stickeyback" is an R.A.F. photographer.

There are three degrees of boredom, brassed off, browned off and cheesed off. Cheesed off is the strongest. Browned off is most common. Pilots who go "dicing" or on a "shaky-do" are attacking a difficult and dangerous target. After they drop their bombs they sometimes "stooge around to take a beaker," which means flying around to have a good look. A pilot chased by the enemy "goes like the clappers" or full out. To "carry the can" is to be the scapegoat type. Pilots suffering that morning-after feeling are "newted."

CONFIRMS SALE OF LOCAL HOTEL

James Bay Property to Be Operated By Roman Catholic Order as Home for Aged

Negotiations were completed yesterday for the sale of the James Bay Hotel to the Sisters of the Love of Jesus in Vancouver, according to Norman Isherwood, owner of the hotel. The property will be taken over on October 1, he said.

The order formerly operated St. Anthony's Guest House for elderly people in Vancouver, but will move to allow military authorities to take over the property. It is understood it is to be used for women's war work.

As many inmates as possible will be transferred to Victoria, according to Sister Cecilia Mary, Mother Superior of the order. The military will assume operation of the Vancouver property on October 15, she said.

The James Bay Hotel was finished in 1913, Mr. Isherwood said, and has been used as a hotel since that time. The price paid for the building was not disclosed. Mr. Isherwood understood the property would be renamed the St. Mary's Priory Guest House.

Communiqués to Be Issued About R.C.A.F. Actions

LONDON, Sept. 9 (CP).—R.C.A.F. headquarters today adopted the practice of issuing communiques on operations of Canadian aerial squadrons. They will be issued through the Ministry of Information under the authority of Air Marshal Harold Edwards and will be supplemented by weekly official summaries of the operations of the Dominion's flyers. The first communique dealt with the Frankfurt raid and said:

"Last night R.C.A.F. bomber squadrons formed part of the strong force which attacked objectives in the Rhineland, particularly Frankfurt. Many large fires were started.

"Aircraft of the Canadian fighter squadrons also carried out intruder operations over occupied territory."

Successful Camp Held for Blind

Described as one of the most successful yet held, Landeberg's Sunshine Camp for the Blind afforded a happy holiday for blind residents of Victoria, who otherwise would have been unable to take a vacation this year.

A report on the activities of the camp, held from July 2 to 14 at Sooke, was made at a recent meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Twenty-four vacationists attended the camp. Thirteen of them were blind and the others acted as their guides.

"We feel that this camp was one of the most successful that has been held," the report said. "Much of the smooth running was due to Mrs. Hughes, the camp mother, who was most kind and considerate."

Fishermen Doing Well Near Mouth Of Fraser River

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9 (CP).—Heavy catches of sockeye salmon in the Fraser River and off the mouth of the stream were reported today with both purse seine and gill-net fishermen making up for several days of poor fishing.

Sockeye began to school in the seine area off the mouth of the river late yesterday, and the sixty-odd fishing boats operating in the area are estimated to have made catches slightly in excess of 2,000 fish.

The highest catch was made by the British Columbia Packers' seine boat Martha K., which hauled in 10,000 sockeye. Several other catches of 6,000 and 7,000 fish were reported.

In the Fraser River above the Pattullo Bridge gill-netters averaged 150 fish per boat, with the high boat for that area reporting a catch of 400. Below the bridge gill-netters averaged only about forty-five fish.

IT'S ACTION NOW

As the fourth year of the war opens there is abundant manifestation that the initiative in the vast struggle is passing slowly to the United Nations, and that the big push, when it comes, will be our effort and not that of the enemy. In short, though we cannot see all of its outlines, the long-awaited Battle of Germany will ensue within the next twelve months. As the third year of the war—that Germany was to have finished in one year—ends, there is time to examine some of the rough and rocky road that the world has traveled.

In the first year, for instance, European nations could find no common front against the aggressors. Poland was conquered. France collapsed. Italy was forced to the expedient of choosing sides; and picked the wrong side, as now she knows. German legions were advancing everywhere, and nowhere was there a barrier that could stand against the land and air might of the aggressors. Very much out in front, and boasting of an easy victory, Germany ended the first year of the war.

In the second year there was a considerable difference. Germany, for the first time, faltered. The much-heralded Battle of Britain never in fact took place. It was beaten before it could be started, by the Royal Navy and by the Royal Air Force. Germany was forced to seek a second objective, and did so. As we know now, that was the enemy's most costly mistake. There was a considerable lull, however, before the next step came, and with it the third year of the war.

In the third year, Germany flung the masses of her land might against the only army in Europe that was even theoretically equipped to withstand them, Russia. It is true there had been diversions first, in which Italy entered Egypt and Albania, and Germany entered the Balkans and conquered Greece. But the main effort, the enemy attack with full weight behind it, was made against Russia. It failed. For the second time, Germany had been halted at a barrier that arms could not pass.

The prolongation of that battle into its second year is still on. It has yielded thousands of square miles of territory to the Nazi aggressors, but no victory. Losses sustained in the fighting have sapped, and for the first time seriously, the strength of German arms. There has been a furious hunt throughout Europe for enforced labor, growing unrest in Germany, and again for the first time in this war the clear vision of ultimate defeat of aggression in the field. Germany will fight on in desperation, because she must; but from now on it will be without hope of victory.

Slowly, inch by inch and hour by working hour, the United Nations are coming to a parity with the Axis Powers on land, at sea, and in the air. There may be—indeed there will be—many reverses for us before that parity is established; but effected it will be, because four of the most determined and powerful nations on earth have so willed it. Then, after the outside sparring is over, the Battle of Germany will be on, and upon German soil.

As we prepare for that, as we get ready for the fourth year, it will be deeds and not words that count. There is the task for every able-bodied person in the United Nations, each in his allotted place. Guns, tanks, planes, ships and trained men are the tools with which battles are made, and won. The greatest battle in the world's history is in the making, and we have only to persist, unflaggingly, to win it.

Every possible attempt will be made to divide the United Nations, to split up their growing ranks and their mounting effort. There will be peace offensive after peace offensive, sometimes masquerading in very strange clothes. Both will fail. For the world knows now what is at stake; and why it is that freedom must, and shall, prevail. A whining, whipped and lying bully will be brought to the common end of all such cowards, be they men or nations. That may require more than another year of intensified warfare; but of the end we are certain. Let us lay words aside. It is time for action now.

THE MAN-POWER PROBLEM

The new man-power regulations of the Government leave to the individual the right of free choice of employment. With those already employed there is no compulsion to be exercised. In other words, no one will be told that he or she must leave any particular job to engage in some other task regarded as more essential in the war effort. It is only in the case of those now unemployed, and in whatever proportion of them is put to work, that there will be any limitation on personal preference regarding occupation. In their cases the Government may give definite directions as to the work to be undertaken. It is not clear, however, that the power will be exercised to the extent of compelling unemployed to work.

The man-power programme is designed to bring about a better redistribution of labor. Specifically it is sought to ease the task of securing some 250,000 more persons needed before the end of the present year for the armed forces and for wartime industry. The policy, however, lacks compulsory features, which may well become essential in the long run. What is proposed is largely on the voluntary basis; whereas, for instance, those men being drafted from time to time for home defence could well prove the reservoir, as well, for meeting the needs of war industry. Among the men drafted many are rejected for physical reasons. In the case where these are not already engaged in essential wartime work they should be drafted for that purpose. That would be one of the most potent ways of filling the ranks of increasing production. The Government does not seem to have given any consideration to this feature of the man-power problem, although it may be reminded that over 18,000 of the first 30,000 draftees called up were found to be below category A1.

There is a suggestion that in tackling the man-power problem anew something may be done to reclaim by remedial treatment those men called to the colors and found physically unfit. Nothing is being done, and seemingly no plans have been devised to do anything. In the meantime such men could well be drafted for work in war industries. If the war machine of this country is to be geared to its highest pitch compulsion is essential. It does not seem possible that under the new and somewhat nebulous regulations recently outlined 250,000 persons can be secured for both the armed services and war industry in a period that is but little over three months. It is what is done now that will assist in shortening the duration of the war; it is what is left undone, through fear of exercising compulsion, that will tend to stretch out the period of hostilities indefinitely.

MERITED RECOGNITION

Institution of a civil division for distinguished awards for courage in action in the face of the enemy, such as the Distinguished Service Order and the Distinguished Service Medal, was announced from London this week over the British Broadcasting System. The new awards will apply especially to the merchant service, which for three years of the war has been virtually a branch of the Royal Navy, sharing the same risks and standing twenty-four-hour watches at sea under any and all hazards.

Such a departure will be generally welcomed, as something that was already long overdue. Heretofore there has been some means of rewarding officers and men in the merchant service for gallantry, but a large range of wartime decorations were denied to them because they were not directly in uniform. Now that the field has been opened no doubt there will be many awards to be made, and retroactively. The British merchant service has been characterized by unsurpassed courage and bravery since the outbreak of hostilities in September, 1939.

The skippers and crews of trans-Atlantic convoys, the masters, mates and engineers of coastal patrol vessels, all those who have run the gauntlet of the English Channel under air and shore battery fire, and many officers and seamen who have been twice and three times around the world since the was opened, will all come into the category of those who can now be remembered more fittingly by a grateful Empire. It is a timely step, and one which will be received with commendation on our side of the conflict everywhere.

TRAVEL RATIONING

If travel-rationing is coming in Canada, and Mr. George S. Gray, Canadian transit controller, says that it is, it will be accepted by the public with the same good faith that all other forms of wartime restrictions have been adopted. At the same time, the Dominion itself will be expected to abide by the rules, and much of the itinerant movement of officials about the country should come to a stop, Mr. Gray, by the way, made his utterance at Chicago.

In at least one department there seems to have been a very great deal of travel in Canada, and that is in connection with the uniformed forces of the country, both in training and otherwise. It has become a common experience that men enlisted in Halifax find themselves posted to Victoria for duty, and vice versa. Both men and women joining the uniformed forces have been sent to distant training camps, and some, at least, have been shuttled backwards and forwards across the country to a surprising extent. Is all of this movement necessary?

Nor is the case much different with motor vehicles under the care of the state. There seems to have been a deal of travel, some no doubt, necessary in the work to be done, but some, perhaps, that represents little more than a form of official taxi-service for senior and not-too-senior officers in the various services. Unnecessary travel, the people will agree, means waste; and if rationing comes it must apply all round. Here is a point where the Dominion itself can, and will be expected to, give the people a sane lead.

PAGING ROBBIE

The Burns Club of Victoria has hit upon a novel expedient to bring the works of Scotia's beloved bard more fully before its membership. There is danger in the thing, too, because the organization has held a debate on the relative merits, each to each, of two of the bard's well-known pieces: "Tam O' Shanter," and "The Cottar's Saturday Night." They will be fortunate if heads are not broken over it.

A man who has gone through most of his life believing that "The Cottar's Saturday Night" outdistances "Tam O' Shanter" in merit is not going to take it lying down should the judge hold otherwise. The reverse would be as keenly felt, on the other side of the debate. In short, only the presence of the Scotia's bard himself would likely settle the point—and that seems a little too much to expect. In spirit, no doubt, "Robbie" would be there, and he would have liked the argument, too.

Strictly speaking, an author's works are separate, and seldom can be compared. One was written on one day, and another on another. One was written in this mood, and its successor in that. Most often, they will be found to have different themes, and purposes. The Burns Club and its membership—and not a few other people—will be in the embarrassing position of liking most things that Robbie Burns wrote, and some there are who can repeat them by heart. Let the judges beware, that's all! Heilan' blood runs warm.

THE FLOWERS OF THE FOREST

I've heard them lilting at our ewe-milking,
Lasses a' lilting before dawn o' day;
But now they are moaning on ilka green loaning—
The Flowers of the Forest are a' wede away.

At bughts, in the morning, nae blythe lads are scorning,
Lasses are lonely and dowie and wae;
Nae daffin', nae gabbin', but sighing and sabbing,
Ilk ane lifts her leglin and hies her away.

In Har'st, at the shearing, nae youths now are jeering,
Bandsters are lyart, and runkled, and grey;
At fair or at preaching, nae wooing, nae fleeching—
The Flowers of the Forest are a' wede away.

At e'en, in the gloaming, nae younkers are roaming
'Bout stacks wi' the lasses at bogle to play;
But ilk ane sits drearie, lamenting her dearie—
The Flowers of the Forest are weded away.

Dool and wae for the order, sent our lads to the Border;
The English, for ance, by guile wan the day;
The Flowers of the Forest, that fought aye the foremost,
The prime of our land, are cauld in the clay.

We'll hear nae mair lilting at the ewe-milking;
Women and bairns are heartless and wae.
Sighing and moaning on ilka green loaning—
The Flowers of the Forest are a' wede away.

—Jane Elliot (18th Century).

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

The war years will teach many people, who did not know it before, the difference between capital and income. Many a man, counting the realizable worth of his home, his automobile, his equity in life insurance or in other savings, had accounted himself rich; whereas a comparison of his income with his outlay would have shown a different state of facts. If Governments had [illegible] the past there would have been fewer tax defaults. Yet Governments could not know what the people did not know; and, by and large, this whole continent was telling itself the same idle tale. Its resources, capitalized, were infinite; or so it was said and thought.

We know better, now. We know that resources are neither infinite, nor indeed of much value until some work has been done upon them. We have learned that only in municipal tax assessments does the value of a house increase with the passage of years; a fiction invented by a corporation to acquire more taxes from a depreciating collection of properties. The automobile, even the state will allow, depreciates itself to a thing without value within ten years. Insurance values are as they are nursed, and not expended. Other values change with the times, writing each year a different set of figures. In the end, the individual must go back to what comes in and what goes out in the year; and that is his, or her, income position.

Older countries have known that for hundreds of years. On this continent it still passes as an unrealized fact. We have mesmerized ourselves by the summation of capital assets, forgetting that much of this is still only to be expressed in terms of work waiting to be done. Not even the combined labors of all people living on this continent could realize more than a fraction of those values as they have sometimes been stated on the hustings.

* * *

A few years back, many people were riding in automobiles that had not been paid for; living in homes that were held on incompleted agreements for sale; buying furniture, clothing and other articles on the installment plan; and fondling the combined total of those assets as their very own. Five, ten, maybe fifteen years of work lay in the difference between what they owned and what they believed that they owned. They had, in not a few cases, capitalized their lives and forgotten their income position. Banks could have told them, but then banks were somewhat in disfavor; particularly with those who had never entered their doors for any purpose whatever. Men were following myths of their own invention, and because they wished to do so. Some still are.

Disruption of world trade and a global war are today forcing many adjustments. This continent will come the better out of those adjustments if it learns to look once again at its income position. Governments, we are told, cannot afford to do that just at present, because budgets are running two dollars for one above what may be raised by taxation, and the rest must be taken on the cuff, in the name of the people. There may be no escape from that for the present; yet, if individuals follow suit they will go broke, and will not contribute to taxes in any form.

It is only in an emergency that even Governments can finance themselves that way, and then for short periods only. The emergency is here, and must be faced; but if individuals are to survive they must save. If not from income, where else can one save? It is a neat problem, and one that money theorists will dismiss with a wave of the hand; but other people, one suspects, will just have to work it out, slowly, painfully, and a little at a time. Ironically, it is Governments that are now calling on the people to save; and equally ironically many of the people think there is a trick in it, and will not listen. Yet any man is competent to measure what comes in, and what goes out. And a wise man does.

EXHIBITION HELD IN AID OF SOOKE A.R.P.

An exhibition of water colors by C. J. Turpin was given last week in the Sooke Community Hall, including flower studies and paintings depicting scenes in the Sooke district, the Okanagan Valley and the Gulf Islands.

The water colors were arranged around the room and were admired by many visitors. Large vases of asters and gladioli were used as the flower arrangement. Mr. Turpin was present most of the day.

One of the paintings was won by Mrs. D. J. DeRochie. Proceeds were in aid of the A.R.P.

Aubrey and Clarence sat down to enjoy a cup of coffee. "Heck, this coffee is hot," Aubrey complained at the first sip. "Then you will have to wait," Clarence replied as he looked at his watch and drained half his cup at one gulp. "I have too much weight now." Aubrey grinned . . . From a veteran of the Great War: "In the front line in 1914 it was a crime to throw away a jam tin, even if it had contained the monotonous plum and apple concoction. Jam tins were used to make bombs, and members of suicide squads used many with deadly effect on the Boches. Such bombs cost very little to make. I think members of the home guards and rangers who protect the watersheds should learn how to put them together. Instruction should also be given in the preparation of gasoline bombs used against tanks and other vehicles in the Spanish Civil War. From newspaper accounts they are also simple to put together." . . . Hint to pedestrians on sidewalks: "Keep to the right and you will never be left. Keep to the left and you will never be right." . . . From an editorial in Judge: "We are not training our men to be killers any more than our fellow Americans are born killers, but now that we have this war we must do everything we can to win it. To win it we must have an irresistible desire and ability to destroy those who would destroy what we stand for. There is no room for squeamishness or sentiment on the battlefront. The paradox is that to live we must kill. If the men do not kill they will be killed. After the battle it is time for regrets." . . . From a reader: "It was noted in a broadcast from Vancouver that persons whose duties compel them to work at night in war industries, and who have to sleep in the daytime, are considering placing notices marked 'Quiet' on their homes. I am sure that something like that would be appreciated here by many."

Officer Reviews Dominion Order

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, yesterday drew attention to the Dominion order in council which empowers the Minister of Pensions and National Health, or any person authorized by him to act, to compel owners, lessees and occupiers of buildings to take certain air raid precautions.

Among these precautions, Inspector Bishop said, are the furnishing of necessary equipment, removal of fire hazards, organization and training of fire-fighting units among the employees, and the maintaining of fire spotters.

It is suggested that A.R.P. authorities and owners and tenants of buildings meet together to discuss the subject.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or fall continuously during intervening times between the high and low waters given.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of September 10, 1892)

Malicious Poisoning—The prize bulldog, Dasco, was yesterday morning maliciously poisoned at his home on Simcoe Street. Poor Dasco had a good reputation in his district, and sympathy for his fate is general. He was not even a chicken killer. At the last dog show Dasco took the prize, and his poisoning is attributed to someone with a less fortunate dog.

The Damaged Flagship—The water was all pumped out of the drydock at Esquimalt on Monday evening, and yesterday an examination was made of the injuries received by the flagship when she struck the rock south of Seymour Narrows. The damage is just about as described by the divers who made the examination some time ago. Nearly the whole of the false keel has been carried away, and some of the frames on the inside are more or less bent. The specifications for the repairs will be made up as soon as possible, and then tenders will be called for the work.

To Be Discussed Tonight—The suggestion made that the citizens should give a ball in honor of the admiral and officers of the French flagship, has met with general approval, and a meeting will be held at the Board of Trade rooms this evening to discuss the proposal and select a committee to take it in hand.

wonderful tenacity.

As for the battle for the Novorossisk naval base, the Germans do not now say they have captured it, though some units may be in part of the suburbs. At the other end of the Caucasus Red troops continue to resist strongly, but the Nazis appear to be pressing slowly towards Grozny.

General Shukov's slow and necessarily painstaking advance around Rzhev now faces tremendous Nazi fortifications, and Russian heavy tanks have to clear the way for infantry.

Field Marshal Smuts, in a speech at Pretoria, has stressed the urgency of clearing up the Egyptian and North African front, saying the war cannot be won until this is done.

"Unless North Africa is cleared up with the greatest decision," he declares, "resources of the Allied Powers' whole war effort will be in jeopardy," and he adds that when he met Premier Churchill in Egypt he found the Middle East war situation uncomfortable and disturbing. However, important decisions had been taken and the outlook was better.

"We shall continue to clear the shores of the Mediterranean," concluded Smuts, "and when this is done the end will not be far off."

Rommel's losses in tanks in the recent desert battle, says the military correspondent of The Times, numbered probably about 40 per cent of his effective strength. The Nazi commander, however, holds certain valuable points north of the Qattara depression, presumably as a bridgehead. He can exploit this, however, only if he can replace the tanks he has lost.

Persecution of the Jews in France, with connivance of the Vichy Government, has reached a new stage of savagery. Jewish families are now broken up, fathers and sons deported to Eastern Europe, children sent to penitentiaries and women left to misery.

Frenchmen, however, with their long tradition of tolerance, are outraged by the new campaign of villainy, says The Times, editorially, and have protested so strongly that many have been arrested. Fifteen thousand Jews are being deported from France—sold out to Germany by Laval's treachery, says the Lisbon correspondent of The Times.

The military governor of Lyons has been dismissed by Laval for refusing to assist in mass arrests of Jews. Roman Catholic priests who sheltered Jewish children have been thrown into prison for their exercise of Christian charity. Bishops' letters recommending Roman Catholics help persecuted Jews are being read out from every pulpit in occupied France.

Japanese Push Through Range

The enemy is reported using special jungle fighters who participated in the overrunning of Malaya and Singapore, and the tactics are the same—a steady infiltration and outflanking of Allied defenders who are supplied over muddy mountainous paths from Port Moresby.

Port Moresby's seizure would deprive the Allies of its only well-developed base in New Guinea and open the way to a Japanese invasion of Australia. Cape York, on the northern tip of Australia, is only 325 miles from Port Moresby, which is equipped with an airdrome whence Allied bombers have been striking at enemy bases in Upper and Eastern New Guinea.

The strength of the Japanese forces now menacing the base was not known, nor have any figures been released on the size of the Fort Moresby garrison.

Budapest Raided By Red Bombers

Other Continental stations also were reported off the air.

It was the second attack of the war on the Hungarian capital. Russian bombers raided Budapest last Friday night and left fires raging in the city.

Russian and British bombers launched a whipsaw bombing campaign several weeks ago, the R.A.F. lashing at German territory from the west and the Russians bombing East Prussia, Eastern Germany and occupied Poland.

CANADIAN SQUADRONS

At least two Canadian squadrons participated with the R.A.F. in the attack on Frankfurt last night, the sixth nocturnal raid on Germany proper in the first eight of September's lengthening "bomber nights."

The R.C.A.F. today announced the adoption of the practice of issuing communiques on the work of its squadrons. The first communique said:

"Last night R.C.A.F. bomber squadrons formed part of a strong force which attacked objectives in the Rhineland, particularly Frankfurt. Many large fires were started.

"Aircraft of the Canadian fighter squadrons also carried out intruder operations over enemy territory."

The communiques will be supplemented by weekly summaries of operations.

The raid on Frankfurt, the thirty-fifth of the war, apparently was of the "standard three-figure order," meaning more than two hundred planes went to the attack on the Rhineland, from which seven bombers failed to return.

FIRES STARTED

Large fires were set in Frankfurt and the nearby Rhineland, some 400 miles from the nearest British bases.

One of the R.C.A.F. squadrons was led by Flight Lieutenant David Williams, of Vancouver, recently decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross, who had as his navigator, Flight Sergeant Mick Turnour, of Saskatoon and Vancouver.

The city "took a lot of damage and fires were spreading nicely when we left," Sergeant Norval Lewis, of Assiniboia, Sask., a member of a squadron commanded by Wing Commander John Ferris, of Edmonton, reported.

Two of several German planes raiding England were shot down [illegible] ganda leaflets which authorities suppressed.

Germans Force Third Retreat

BERLIN'S CLAIMS

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Sept. 9 (AP).—The German High Command claimed today that dominating heights in the fortified area west of Stalingrad had been captured by German forces after bitter fighting.

German tanks led the way into the fortified zone despite a stubborn defence by the Russians, the communique asserted. During the night, it was reported, Russian airfields east of the Volga and in Stalingrad itself were bombed by German planes.

More than 1,000 prisoners were reported captured along with twenty-seven guns and an armored train in the capture of a height southeast of the naval base of Novorossisk. German bombers, it was claimed, sank a 500-ton transport in the Black Sea.

The communique asserted that 2,126 Russian tanks were destroyed in the Rzhev area from July 30 to September 8.

ments which fled to the jungles when the initial American landing was made.

Another disclosure of the communique was that on September 5 a navy patrol plane shot down a large Japanese four-engined flying boat northeast of the Solomons. No details of this engagement were given, but the loss of the flying boat brought to at least 123 the number of planes which the Japanese have had destroyed in Solomons fighting to date.

OF CHIEF INTEREST

Most interest in naval circles here developed upon the Guzo action, however, and what it may portend for the future.

The little island, which is about four miles wide by six long, and heavily wooded, lies more than halfway on the route to Kieta, a Japanese-held point on Bougainville Island, northwest of Kieta, is the Japanese main Solomons base of Buka.

All Saved When Transport Burns

ing her superstructure against the towering hull of the former liner.

"It was shortly after 7 o'clock Thursday night," said Robert Crabtree, of Pawtucket, R.I., a passenger. "I was lying on the deck near the bow of the ship when I saw men looking over the rail. I didn't pay much attention because I thought they were watching the destroyers or looking for submarines.

A WISP OF SMOKE

"Then I saw a thin wisp of smoke, and, like a lot of others, I thought somebody's mattress had caught fire from a cigarette and that they probably would throw the mattress overboard.

"While I was looking, probably only a matter of two or three minutes, the smoke and fire seemed to race from one end of the transport to the other and completely enveloped the ship.

"We were headed into the wind, and the skipper quickly hove the transport around, so that the wind blew the smoke and flames away from us instead of from the stern to stern.

"There were long blasts from the ship's whistle. Distress flags were run up.

RACE TO RESCUE

"Almost immediately a destroyer and a cruiser started racing to our rescue. Large cargo nets were swung over the side of the burning transport . . . we began clawing at the ropes of the net as though it was a rope ladder.

"Some of the men fell from the [illegible] light and navy men quickly pulled them from the water onto the destroyer. I don't believe any of the passengers were lost, but I am sure a lot of the crew must have been burned, the fire spread so fast."

The survivors included civilian workers relieved of duty at a northern base, and passengers who had embarked at a European port.

At the time of her launching the Wakefield, then the Manhattan, was the largest ship ever built in the United States, 24,289 gross tons.

PATRONIZING VICTORIA

Sir,—Did you hear a programme tonight (Monday, September 7) called "Canadian Round-up?" The reporter, chosen to speak for Vancouver, evidently found nothing of interest in that city to talk about, so he came to Victoria to see how the Commando picture was coming along. When he arrived there was nothing left at the Willows but a moving job; nevertheless, he managed to broadcast a very good boost for the picture.

He also told Canada in his kindly patronizing manner that at last Victoria has done something. He declared that Victoria, a quiet, staid little town, had long endeavored to become the Hollywood of Canada, that she had made, with the help of some waning stars, a few cheap pictures which have never since been heard of. He was obviously sorry for these waning stars, and he knew what he was saying, for, as he admitted, he was once a reporter on a Victoria newspaper.

The only remedy in our hands seems to be that after we have won the war we organize a Civilian Commando and, with Mayor McGavin leading us in a jeep, we raid Vancouver and wipe out some of the insults in blood by the gallon.

AID TO RUSSIA

Sir,—I cannot believe there is a man, woman, boy or girl in Victoria who does not want to do something to help our gallant Russian allies in their valiant fight for freedom. Most of us feel that we can do so little if anything at all.

I see by the papers that the Federation of Russian-Canadians is to hold a tag day in Victoria on Saturday, September 12, to raise money to send medical supplies to the wounded Russian soldiers. This is the opportunity we have all been waiting for to do something, and I think that every individual and organization in Victoria should be willing and eager to help, not only by giving money, but acting as taggers for an hour or two. If there are enough taggers the money will be given by Victorians. All you have to do, according to the papers, is to telephone Mrs. A. S. Derman, B 1496, after 5 p.m.

The opportunity is ours; let us grasp it. SONIA BASANTA.

2975 Milligrove Street, Victoria, B.C., September 8, 1942.

FLYER RETURNS

MONTREAL, Sept. 9 (CP).—Wing Cmdr. Edgar L. Wurtele, of Montreal, today is back home after serving nearly seven years with the Royal Air Force. He is on his way to a new assignment on the Pacific Coast. Last year he was in charge of the Royal Canadian Air Force torpedo squadron overseas although he was and still is with the Royal Air Force.

According to Culbertson

In yesterday's column I discussed the meaning of a jump response of three no trump to partner's suit bid at the two level. In the limited space available I could not go into all the ramifications of this matter, hence would like to discuss it further today. Consider the following hand:

North dealer
Any vulnerability.

♥ A 10 7
♦ J 9 4 2
♣ A K 9 8 6

WEST
♠ Q 10 8 7 4
♥ J 6
♦ K 8 5
♣ Q 10 3

EAST
♠ K J 3
♥ Q 8 5 4 3
♦ A 7 3
♣ J 5

SOUTH
♠ A 9 5 2
♥ K 9 2
♦ Q 10 6
♣ 7 4 2

The bidding in any good game would undoubtedly start off as follows:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♣ | Pass | 1 ♠ | Pass |
| 2 ♣ | Pass | 2 NT | Pass |

Now, whether or not North made another bid would depend on several factors, such as the vulnerability, his partner's playing ability, the opponents' skill on defence, etc. But one point would be very clear in North's mind that South's two no trump bid did not necessarily guarantee to take eight tricks at a no trump contract; that it might be much in the nature of a "feeler." Hence, whatever decision North made would have to be based on the understanding that some risk would be involved in bidding for game.

This brings us to the more important phase that I wish to discuss. Let us suppose that South actually held instead of the cards shown above:

♠ A J 9 5 ♥ K 9 3 ♦ A 10 6 ♣ 7 4 2

It will be observed that this hand contains precisely one more honor trick than the South hand in the full deal. Yet it would be a grave error for South to regard that additional honor trick as justification for a three no trump call. In this case simple arithmetic is deceiving. A three no trump call, as against a two no trump bid in this situation, should announce more than a one trick difference. By its very nature, a two no trump bid is only a tentative, or investigating bid, whereas three no trump should be reserved for the announcement that at least nine tricks at no trump seem safe to the bidder. There are many reasons for this difference, one of them being that a two no trump is almost always sufficient for the reaching of game—partner is not likely to pass. Three no trump, therefore, may be reserved for the combination purpose of reaching game and implying slam possibilities. It is in no sense a "game closing" bid; it is sheer waste to put it to that use.

Commission Endorses Seven-Day Week Plan

Majority Report of Group Investigating Conditions In Coast Shipyards Recommends Continuous Operation to Obtain Maximum Production

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP) — The Richards Royal Commission which investigated the labor situation in British Columbia shipyards recommended that the "continuous operation" plan—seven days a week with staggered shifts—be used to obtain maximum production in West Coast yards, Labor Minister Mitchell announced today.

"The majority report states that the evidence of shipbuilders in British Columbia was practically unanimous in the view that the plan of continuous operation, by which the men work six days and have one day of rest in each week, but the plant, tools and equipment are operated on all seven days of the week, is the most effective way of securing maximum production," the minister's statement said.

The commission's report was based on a study of United States Pacific Coast yards, where the continuous operation plan is in effect, and on production figures in Vancouver yards which put the seven-day-week plan into operation last April 27.

The majority report was signed by the commission chairman, Mr. Justice S. E. Richards, of the Manitoba Court of Appeal; Don Service, general manager of the North Vancouver Shipyards, and Hugh Lewis, general manager of the South Yard of the Burrard Drydock, Vancouver.

In minority reports, C. W. Pritchard and A. McAuslane, representing organized labor, disagreed with the majority finding and favored a six-day week. Harmony, which was essential to maximum production, was not possible under a continuous operation plan, they said.

APPOINT CO-ORDINATOR

The commission was unanimous in recommending the appointment of a labor co-ordinator for each of the major British Columbia shipyards to act as an intermediary and director of relations between employers and employees. These co-ordinators would be selected by the labor unions which have members in the yards and approved by the shipbuilders. Other unanimous recommendations were:

1. Uniformity of wages in the same occupational classifications throughout the Vancouver yards.
2. Recommendation of the technical advisory committee, appointed by the main commission, be enforced. (The recommendation was not made public).
3. Skilled tradesmen to be supplied to fill up gangs.
4. Labor management production committees to be installed.
5. Progressive reports to be made available to workers.
6. Training of supervisory staff to be put in hand.
7. Vocational training for workers recommended.
8. Welding fumes to be overcome.
9. Periodical medical examination.
10. Spray painting to be done on third shift.
11. Safety committee to be appointed.
12. Housing accommodation for shipbuilders to be given priority.
13. Recreational facilities would bring improvement and reduce labor turnover.
14. Drying rooms for workmen's clothes.
15. Dressing rooms to be provided.
16. Shift ratios to be adjusted.
17. Castings to be bought locally when possible.
18. Yards to be kept informed of all tools and equipment that can be obtained as required.

DISCUSS BEST METHOD

Mr. Mitchell said he had asked Mr. Justice Richards to come to Ottawa to discuss in detail the best method of making the commission's recommendations effective. The Labor Department would do everything possible to bring about acceptance of the recommendations.

Mr. Pritchard in his minority report contended the evidence produced before the commission proved conclusively that the seven-day plan does not work out satisfactorily and will not produce the practical results contemplated, since employees are dissatisfied with the staggered days and working conditions.

Particularly, he said, they are out of harmony with the general prevailing conditions in which transportation, housing, absenteeism and the conditions prevailing in correlated industry do not permit the successful operation of the plan and produce a condition of discontent that is destructive of efficient production.

Mr. McAuslane, in opposing the seven-day week maintained that no plan could be productive of best results unless it had the full co-operation of the workers. He recommended a joint conference of owners, unions and Government representatives at an early date to iron out inequalities and other anomalies existing in the industry.

He said the merits of both continuous operation and the six-day plan could not be fully judged until both had been given an equal trial and he urged that labor's plan for production on a six-day-week basis should be put into effect immediately.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9 (CP) — A labor spokesman said today it is likely that a meeting of the joint Shipyard Trade Union conference, representing the majority of Canadian West Coast shipyard workers, would be held soon to discuss the report of the Richard's Commission recommending the Government-sponsored continuous operation plan be adopted in West Coast yards.

Officials of the International Association of Machinists and the Blacksmiths' Union — two organizations which opposed the seven-day, staggered-hour continuous production plan since its inception, refused comment on the findings of the Richards Commission. It was learned, however, that both unions will hold meetings shortly to discuss the report.

Machinists and blacksmiths staged brief "sitdown strikes" in Vancouver shipyards before the appointment of the Richards Commission in protest against the seven-day work week.

NEW MENACE POSSIBLE

LONDON, Sept. 9 (CP).—The possibility of a new menace to Allied operations in the Mediterranean was indicated today with the authoritative statement that the Italian battleship Roma "could be in commission" by now.

This source, who must remain unidentified, said that the latest information available in London is that the Italians have had time and opportunity to complete the 35,000-ton Littorio class warship which was laid down on September 18, 1938, launched June 12, 1940, and scheduled for completion last year.

PARATROOPS' LEADER KILLED

Major Proctor Meets Death When Transport Plane Fouls Open 'Chute

FORT BENNING, Ga., Sept. 9 (CP) —A "freak accident" cost the life of Major Hilton D. Proctor, thirty, of Ottawa, on his first qualifying parachute jump, Monday, it was disclosed today, robbing the Canadian army of the man who was expected to lead in the training of the Dominion's "fighters from the sky."

Brig.-Gen. George P. Howell, commandant of the United States Army Parachute School here, announced that Major Proctor was killed when a following plane fouled his parachute. Gen. Howell had welcomed the major to the school, August 18, as the officer commanding a group of twenty-seven here to train as Canada's first paratroopers.

The disclosure of his death also said that the other six officers and twenty men had followed the major out of their jumping plane, landed successfully and jumped again yesterday and today in preparation for their graduation Saturday.

Aides of Gen. Howell said a following transport plane fouled the parachute a moment after Major Proctor stepped into space at the head of his group and that it was probable the major was killed instantly by contact with the following plane.

A telephone company engineer in civil life, Major Proctor joined the active army in August, 1940.

His death left command of the group here to Major Robert F. Routh, twenty-eight, of Montreal.

Major Proctor's body was flown to Ottawa today with representatives of both the Canadian and the United States armies in attendance.

He is survived by his widow and one son, who live in Ottawa.

SECOND BATTALION

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—Major Donald R. Williamson, of Brantford, Ont., formerly of the 1st Battalion, Dufferin and Haldimand Rifles, has been promoted to rank of lieutenant-colonel to command the 2nd Canadian Parachute Battalion, it was learned today at National Defence headquarters.

Col. Williamson's promotion became known only a few hours after announcement that Major R. D. Proctor, commander-elect of the 1st Parachute Battalion, had been killed in a jumping accident at Fort Benning, Ga.

The appointment of Col. Williamson was the first word that a second parachute battalion was to be formed immediately.

Then there's the one about the businessman who was dying.

His partner was at the bedside, and the dying man said: "I've got a confession to make. Two years ago I faked the books and robbed the firm of £10,000."

"That's all right," his partner said. "I poisoned you."

Miss Eleanor Rodger, whose marriage to Mr. Peter Walter Penner takes place on Saturday evening, was the guest of honor on Tuesday evening at a linen shower given by Mrs. H. B. Bowerman, 1636 Amphion Street, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. L. Sing and Mrs. Leslie Bridge. The rooms were prettily decorated with pink gladioli, mauve and pink asters and pink and silver streamers. The pretty gifts were concealed in a box representing two big ducks, which was wheeled into the room by little Darlene Sims. Games proved amusing and enjoyable, the prizes being won by Mrs. Barclay, Mrs. A. McLean and Miss Alice Rodger. A buffet supper was served later by the hostess. Asters and gladioli in the prevailing colors in a large vase lighted by pink tapers formed the attractive centrepiece for the table under a white wedding bell which was suspended from the chandelier. The guests were Mesdames S. Barclay, M. Charlebois, C. Dawson, A. McLean, D. Nelson, Murray, B. Scott, G. Zapotisthny and Miss Alice Rodger.

Arrange for Country Fair

Victoria Senior Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League held a meeting on Tuesday evening in the Parish Hall, with Mrs. A. Cownden in the chair. Arrangements were made for the annual country fair for St. Louis College, to take place Thursday, October 1. Mrs. A. L. Battle, Mrs. M. Gillis, Mrs. Blair Reid and Mrs. A. Divine were elected as committee in charge. Refreshments will be served, and those wishing tea or coffee may bring their own. There will be the usual booths, in charge of other subdivisions.

Mrs. E. Hornsby reported for citizenship and the tag day. The meeting went on record as protesting the forthcoming showing in a local theatre of "The Birth of a Baby."

Mrs. P. C. Shaw, Red Cross convener, outlined the work of the Summer and plans for the coming season, and stated a gift, the sum of $15, had been received from Victoria Senior Subdivision to the Red Cross garden party.

Mrs. F. T. Porter and Mrs. A. Cownden were appointed to the remailing committee, succeeding Mrs. J. J. O'Brien whose work was commended. Hospital visiting was undertaken by Mrs. E. Houston, and Mrs. A. F. Windau was thanked for her convenership during the Summer months. Miss Harriet O'Brien summarized child welfare and social service, dealing largely with the interest taken in the needs of the Indians of Saanich.

The report on education showed a good enrollment at St. Ann's Academy and St. Louis College at the Fall opening. A Spanish course has been added to the St. Louis curriculum this year, and aeronautics could be given if an air cadet corps were established.

Rev. Brother Whalen who was so successful in leading and coaching the boys in sports has been transferred to Tacoma and Brother Fellows has replaced him at St. Louis College. Rev. Monsignor A. J. Baker spoke of the parish publications, "The Weekly Bulletin" and the C.Y.O. magazine "The Torch"; also on the importance of meeting and welcoming newcomers.

Mrs. A. J. Grant gave a cheering account of her hospitality to young people on behalf of the league.

The annual diocesan convention having been canceled this year, an executive meeting of the diocesan board will be held at Nanaimo on September 25.

Mrs. A. Cownden and Mrs. Blair Reid were appointed delegates from the senior subdivision.

Mrs. Cownden called for volunteers to help in the K. of C. hostel for the three services on Cormorant Street. Twenty helpers would be required each day and volunteers responded well.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and further plans discussed.

Particulars may be obtained from the convener, Mrs. G. Massey, Lodge Avenue. Members will also assist at the sewing stall and money was voted to buy material which will be made up into aprons. It is hoped to start classes in home nursing in the near future, and the institute has asked for an instructor through the St. John Ambulance Association. Mrs. C. C. Flight has made possible the sending to England of parcels of dolls and toys. Members generously donated money for postage and also dressed the dolls. Mrs. W. Carpenter reported that one parcel had been sent to the institute's "pen friend" and another to "Long Barn" Children's Hospital in Kent.

Tentative plans for the Winter activities were made and more gatherings of the unit were planned, probably two each month. The members were reminded of the need of salvage, particularly metal salvage, and a canvass is to be made of the community. The sum of $1.03 in pennies was handed in for the work of the Red Cross by four children, Carol Faithwright, Donald Murray, Evelyn Nielson and Viola Harfree, who had formed a small club and during the vacation gave concerts to raise the money. As it was Miss Bethel Thomas' twenty-first birthday, she was given a corsage of pink rosebuds and white stocks and Mrs. Jack had prepared a decorated cake. The hostess served tea, assisted by Mrs. Lewis. The next meeting will be on October 13 at the home of Mrs. Shillington, Walema Avenue.

General routine matters were discussed and arrangements made for carrying on at capacity during the Fall and Winter. At present members and all workers are busy with civil defence work. There is an urgent need for more machinists and knitters at the present time owing to the large quantity of materials on hand. Volunteers for this class of work are invited to register with the convener. Appreciation was expressed of the excellent work performed by the scholars and staff of the Oak Bay schools during the past three years. Following an appeal for more private cars to be used in connection with the Red Cross duties in A.R.P. work in Oak Bay, several offers were gratefully accepted. The financial returns from the flower and plant stall held at the recent Red Cross garden party at Government House exceeded all expectations and were most gratifying. ## Fish Possibilities

Now when it is more important than ever to use available Canadian fish to make meat supplies go farther, as well as from health and economy angles, here are some suggestions from the Department of Fisheries.

For a generous serving allow half a pound of fish per person when buying fish whole. Three generous servings are provided in a pound of filleted fish.

Fish for frying should be cut one inch thick. It is often desirable to buy fish for steaks whole and cut them afterwards. If pieces are not even the thin part dries out while the thick part is still undone.

When necessary to buy canned fish, pilchards, chicken haddie, sardines and clams are good buys. A small quantity of lobster can be made to go a long way in a salad if combined with generous helpings of hard-boiled eggs, lettuce and cucumber.

Mrs. Graham to Address Women's Canadian Club

The Women's Canadian Club will meet at the Empress Hotel on Tuesday, September 15, at 2:45 o'clock, when the speaker will be one of America's outstanding lecturers and writers of today, Mrs. Malbone Graham. Mrs. Graham is regional vice-president of the American Association of University Women and director of the South Pacific region. She is also a member of the Social Science Research Council of America, and is a member of the Santa Monica school system.

As wife of a university professor, whose field is modern history of Central and Eastern Europe, as well as its international law and diplomacy, Mrs. Graham has traveled extensively in Europe, making her own first-hand studies of the ways of dictatorship, the movement of co-operation versus aggression and their implications in education. She is also an adviser to the chief of naval personnel in relation to the new Women's Corps of the United States Navy and counsellor for the 11th, 12th and 13th Naval Districts. She has chosen for her subject "The Common Cause and What to Do About It Now." She will answer questions after the meeting.

Mrs. Harry Johns will sing, accompanied by Mrs. G. A. McCurdy. Members are asked to bring any old woolen goods that can be unraveled to make blankets. During the past year 365 blankets were made in Winnipeg from salvaged woolen goods and sent through the Red Cross overseas, except for forty-two of them, which were kept here for A.R.P. use in case of an emergency. At the request of the Security Council, the Women's Canadian Club collected clothing for the A.R.P. and distributed to the A.R.P. centres in Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich 250 complete outfits to be used by any people who might be bombed out in a raid on Greater Victoria. The club wishes to thank all the members who contributed to this call so generously and to the organizations and associations who worked for them and gave their time [illegible] and put the clothing in useable condition.

As a further war effort the club is going to sell at each meeting throughout the year War Savings Stamps and it is hoped that the members will buy them regularly.

SERVICES OF CHEST SHOWN

Film Pictures Many Activities Sponsored by Welfare Organization Here

Community Chest officials this year bring pictorial appeal to their call for funds to carry on social service agencies supported by them. In a color film entitled "Community Welfare Through the Community Chest," they show the activities of the various groups they finance.

Taken in and around Victoria at the time the Lester Cowan company was producing "The Commandos Come at Dawn," it has as a cast the actual workers and their cases, providing a completely authentic picture of the services that are rendered.

The picture, shown first to a United Church Sunday school group, opens with the approach of a Community Chest canvasser to the door of the average Victoria citizen. It then presents the different agencies at work in a visual educational project which should convince the public generally of the benefits which accrue from their donations to the chest.

Scenes are shown of Welfare House, permanent headquarters for the Family Welfare Association, with cases being interviewed and receiving attention. Continuing, it outlines graphically the work of the John Howard Society and the Children's Aid Society.

PHOTOGRAPHIC VISIT

From that point it conducts a photographic visit to receiving homes and foster homes. Returning to headquarters, it indicates the work of the Social Service Index.

After scenes at the Victorian Order of Nurses headquarters, it elaborates on that organization's work with three case visits, showing the nurses attending their charges, and a trip to the well baby clinic, which is shown in operation.

Interesting shots of the Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. groups are shown, with action groups performing in each instance.

HOSPITAL SHIP SHOWN

Highly educational and particularly graphic is the section devoted to the John Antle hospital ship of the Columbia Coast Mission. The staff of the ship is shown receiving a patient, handling him aboard and transferring him to the Garden Bay Hospital at Pender Island.

CO-OPERATION IS EMPHASIZED

Harmony in Industry Essential for Maximum Production, Says Speaker

Stressing the need for maximum industrial production during wartime, Barry Goult, secretary-registrar of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Branch, Department of Labor, Tuesday urged harmonious co-operation between employer and employee in the plants of this province.

"If you are an employer, it is not only your patriotic duty but to your benefit," he told Kiwanians at their luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel. "Get to know your men, for an employee has his problems."

These, he said, included the fear of incapacity through accident, uncertainty of work and a sense of insecurity.

Mr. Goult said that without co-operation between the industrialist and his workers no plant can produce to best advantage.

He dealt mainly with the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act and said that since its passage in 1937 it had played an important part in the deliberations between employers and employees in this province.

STRIKES MEAN LOSS

Frequent strikes in British Columbia in the past had resulted in considerable economic loss, he said as he recalled the strike of 1913 "when Vancouver Island lost its coal trade."

Mr. Goult reviewed the various aspects of industrial conflict. One of the most fruitful causes of disputes is wages, although many small matters lead to misunderstandings and trouble.

"I think you will agree that no one wins a strike," he added.

The main object of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act was to place the strike in its proper place—"at the tail of the procession where it belongs, not in the van."

The act also provides for collective bargaining and lays down a rule for orderly procedure.

"Workers definitely should have something to say about the conditions under which they work; that is true democracy, democracy as it should function."

NO BEHAVE

Two sweet young things were discussing affairs of the heart.

"So you've accepted Tom?" said one acidly. "I suppose he didn't happen to mention that he had previously proposed to me?"

"Well, not exactly," replied the other blandly; "but he did confess that he'd done a lot of silly things before he met me."

ATLAS PRESENTS POPULAR ACTORS

Barbara Stanwyck, Joe McCrea and Brian Donlevy Appear in "The Great Man's Lady"

"The Great Man's Lady," which comes today to the Atlas Theatre, finds the three luminaries who appeared together so successfully in Cecil B. DeMille's "Union Pacific," again cast by Paramount. They are Barbara Stanwyck, Joel McCrea and Brian Donlevy.

This time, as them their roles are played against the exciting background of America in the making. Miss Stanwyck is said to be superb as the woman loved by two red-blooded men—McCrea, the hard-headed man of action, and Donlevy, the soft-hearted gambler.

The picture is primarily a romance although the story is set in the days when the country was young—the days when men pioneered with their women beside them. It is the romance of a girl of sixteen who elopes with a man of twenty-two and goes West with him to built a city on prairie wastes. There she meets Donlevy, whose love for her affects all their lives.

WEST PORTRAYED ON YORK SCREEN

Errol Flynn Takes Part of General Custer in "They Died With Their Boots On"

"They Died With Their Boots On" will be the attraction at the York Theatre starting today. It is an exciting film of the old West. The picture stars Errol Flynn as General George Custer, telling the story of his life from the time of his entry to West Point until his memorable stand at the Battle of Little Big Horn. All the tense drama and romance in his exciting life is captured in this epic film. It is the story of a man who lived, fought and loved with all the power his soul possessed.

Olivia de Havilland is co-starred first as Custer's sweetheart and later as his wife. A fine supporting cast includes Gene Lockhart, Arthur Kennedy, Charley Grapewin, Stanley Ridges, Sydney Greenstreet and Walter Hampden.

"BLACK DRAGONS" SHOWING AT RIO

Weird Film Drama Deals With Sabotage Committed in America by Japanese Society

The year's strangest film drama is "Black Dragons," the Monogram picture which comes today to the Rio Theatre, with Bela Lugosi in the starring role.

In swift succession the screen shows a series of major catastrophes such as may affect the United States in the present war, and furnishes a thought-compelling demonstration of the necessity for constant vigilance against saboteurs.

The story deals with the deadly Black Dragons Society of Japan, and pictures the destruction which follows after a number of its members, with the aid of plastic surgery, are secretly substituted for leading American industrialists.

FINE CAST APPEARING IN COMEDY AT CADET

One of the finest casts ever assembled, in what Hollywood regards as one of the finest pictures ever made, may be seen at the Cadet Theatre, where Columbia's "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," starring Robert Montgomery, will open today.

According to reports "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" is a comedy which dares to break every rule of film-making even as it achieves a high level of entertainment. Its characters are said to be gay, adorable, hateful, human; its story still has Hollywood chuckling.

A brilliant supporting cast includes Claude Rains, Evelyn Keyes, James Gleason, Edward Everett Horton and Rita Johnson.

RATIONING OF TRAVEL COMING

As Sure as Tea Ration It Will Hurt Like Rubber Shortage

CHICAGO, Sept. 9 (CP)—Travel rationing for Canadians is a certainty, George S. Gray, Canadian transit controller, said today in an address to the American Transit Association.

"The travel honeymoon is over," Mr. Gray said. "Travel rationing is as sure as tea rationing and will hurt like the rubber shortage."

Mr. Gray outlined a wartime industrial transit plan which will soon be applied to all workers in essention industry, determining the number of private cars to be permitted to be used for the transportation of workers not served by public facilities.

Further restrictions on taxicabs were also predicted by Mr. Gray.

"There is much still to be done but I have no fears that we will not be ready when the going gets tough," the controller said in speaking of Canada's transportation problems as a whole.

"We now are working on the assumption that the facilities which we now have must see us through for the duration. If no more street cars or buses are to be built, our transit utilities will make the best of what they have."

Skipper Escapes By Way of Port When Boat Sinks

PRINCE RUPERT, Sept. 9 (CP)—Reports reaching here today said the West Coast fishpacker Sherman struck a rock and sank in the Skeena River and her owner-skipper, John Paul, of Hartley Bay, B.C., trapped in the cabin, barely escaped by breaking a port and crawling through as the vessel went under.

Paul was picked up by five other members of the Sherman's crew who had taken to a lifeboat. The men rowed to Claxton, B.C.—about twenty-five miles south of here near the mouth of the Skeena, where Paul was given first aid for severe cuts to his hands suffered in his escape from the packer.

The accident occurred on Tuesday as the Sherman was en route to the Claxton cannery from the sealing grounds with 1,100 coho salmon. She also had $1,000 in cash aboard when she went down.

The Sherman was a forty-five-foot vessel equipped with a forty-horsepower Diesel. Other members of her crew, besides the skipper, were Ambrose Robinson, William Robinson, Herman Hill, William Hill and Peter Bates, all of Hartley Bay or Kitkatla, B.C.

SHOT DOWN ITS FIRST VICTIM

Light Anti-Aircraft Battery Scores Against Focke-Wulf 190

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 9 (CP)—Khaki close-ups. Score one for a light anti-aircraft battery of the Royal Canadian Artillery on guard on the south coast of England. The battery has shot down its first victim, a Focke-Wulf 190.

The Bofors gun crew on duty when the once-vaunted fighter attempted to breach the coast defences were L.-Bdr. Jeff Richmond, of New Westminster, B.C., and two Indian brothers from Thetford, Ont., Gnrs. Ken and Tom George.

The duel during which the Bofors crews was machine-gunned by the raider, was described by Bdr. Phil Calder, of Owen Sound, Ont., who watched with fellow battery members from a nearby spot.

"The Focke-Wulf came in twenty-five feet over the sea," Calder said. "He flew low over a row of trees and when he spotted the battery he dived for it. The duty crew fired at him at 200-yard range and portions of the fuselage dropped from the plane.

"The pilot banked sharply and at the some time fired his machine guns at the gun crew, but his aim was bad and the bullets went over their heads. He then headed out to sea with smoke pouring from his tail. Soon he lost control and fell into the sea."

Among the men who watched with Calder was Sgt. Harold Pearson, of Fort William, Ont.

Nazi Submarines Must Be Attacked From Air and Sea

LONDON, Sept. 9 (CP)—Official circles said today a new Allied anti-submarine campaign is under way, aimed at subjecting each Nazi underwater raider to constant attacks from the surface and the air during the whole time it is at sea.

"We must destroy U-boats faster than Germany can commission them," a source said.

He termed fantastic a proposal to divert all shipments of war materials to air freighters as a means of defeating the submarines.

"Certain specialized equipment can and has been transported by air," he said, "but the great bulk of the material must go by ships."

The source said the Germans and Italians had lost half the vessels available in the Mediterranean since the war began and "probably will not be able to replace" more than one-quarter of them.

BEEF SHORTAGE FOR TWO WEEKS

May Last a Month Before Effects of New Plan Are Felt

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—Food Administrator J. G. Taggart, of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said today he anticipates that "from a couple of weeks to a month" will pass before the present shortage of beef throughout Canada is overcome.

While there will likely be some improvement in the supply situation earlier than that, he said, depleted stocks across the country must be replaced before the situation can be considered overcome, and that will take time.

Earlier today a Prices Board official said it would not be expected that cattle would begin moving to market in greatly increased volume within a few days of announcement of the new plan to encourage sales. The plan, made public last Friday, provides that the Wartime Food Corporation, Government agency, will be the only cattle exporter, and will buy only when Canadian prices fall below certain levels.

"But we are confident," this official said, "that the plan will result in enlarged cattle marketing and subsequent relief of beef shortages."

MARKETINGS OFF

During the past two weeks, Mr. Taggart said, marketings were only about half of what they were during the corresponding weeks last year.

In the West the beef supply was sufficient to meet all military and priority needs and to meet some of the Eastern demand. Military and priority needs in the East were being met and there was some beef for domestic needs. The shortage in the East was still marked, however, especially in the Toronto area.

Across Canada there was enough beef to meet only from 25 to 30 per cent of the civilian demand. In the West the supply situation was improving and it was anticipated that once harvesting was completed the flow of cattle to market would be heavier.

"It isn't a famine," said Mr. Taggart, "because people can turn to pork, lamb, turkey, chicken, fish and other similar foods. Nobody is starving because of the shortage."

RETAILER SUFFERS

The meat retailer was the worst sufferer. It was impossible for him to divert all his normal beef business to other products in his store. People turned to eggs and canned meats in part, instead of spending the same amount with the retailer for alternative meat supplies.

There were reports in some quarters that the Beef Advisory Board, representative of cattle raisers throughout the Dominion, was going to come here for an interview with Prices Board officials, seeking further action to overcome the present situation.

Mr. Taggart said, however, that he had heard nothing about such an intention.

"There are plenty of cattle in Canada, and they have got to be sold some time," he added.

The understanding here was that the principle of the new Prices Board plan to encourage marketings was acceptable to the Beef Advisory Board. But it was said there was some question whether the prices which may be paid to farmers for cattle will be acceptable, in view of the limitation on his return occasioned by the Prices Board's determination to continue existing arrangements for wholesale beef price ceilings.

Three Killed in Crash of Bomber

HAGERSVILLE, Ont., Sept. 9 (CP).—An instructor and two Royal Canadian Air Force students were killed late today when their Bolingbroke bomber crashed on a farm three miles east of here.

Names of the airmen were not announced pending notification of next of kin.

TRAMS BARELY PAY OWN COST

B.C.E.R. Official Says Service Could Not Operate Alone

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9 (CP).—A. E. Grauer, general secretary of the British Columbia Electric Co., Ltd., told the Public Utilities Commission here today that immediate and sharp increases in transportation fares would be asked by the company if its three services—power, gas and transportation—were taken as separate entities by the commission and forced to stand on their own feet for purposes of return.

"The situation regarding the transportation service is especially important because it is a large service and has over a period of years barely covered operating costs," Mr. Grauer said. He said the company did not believe the transportation service could be made to stand on its own feet.

Mr. Grauer said it would be the man in the lower income group who would be the one to suffer from any fare increase. He said the average worker and his family spent almost three times as much on street car fares as on electricity, whose heavy users were found in the higher income classes.

The witness listed as other reasons for taking the company's services as a whole the fact that the services had been built up and operated as a group, loss of economies of joint operation and financing, and impossibility of the transportation and gas services obtaining necessary capital as independent services.

FIRE HELD FROM MILL MACHINERY

Forestry Crews and Nanaimo A.R.P. Workers Save Valuable Equipment From Flames

Valuable mill machinery was saved from flames yesterday afternoon through the efforts of forestry crews, assisted by members of the local A.R.P. organization, when the old Nanaimo Lumber Company mill, one and a half miles north of Nanaimo, was threatened by a bush fire.

The mill has not been operated for several years, but the planing mill has been used as a store room for machinery. Plans had been completed for dynamiting the main building in order to save the planing mill when the flames were brought under control.

Many slash fires, set by logging operators through the Island and causing huge palls of smoke, are under control and are causing no undue anxiety to forestry officials.

Smoke from similar fires about Victoria, one of which is near Bamberton, was clearly visible here yesterday. Forestry officials reported they wish to have slash disposed of this year, since adverse weather last year made necessary the postponing of considerable burning.

FIVE HEROES TO SEE CITY

Members of R.C.A.F. Squadron Who Bombed Germany Due Here Next Monday

Five R.C.A.F. heroes who bombed Sharnbrooke in Germany last week and then flew to Ottawa in a ferry plane the following day will arrive here next Monday for a brief official visit.

They are members of the famous "Moose" Squadron, led by Squadron Leader "Moose" Fulton, Kamloops, now missing. The group includes Pilot Officer J. B. Higham, Assiniboia, Sask.; Flight Sergeant S. C. Lee, Minnedosa, Man.; Flight Sergeant Karl Sveinson, Elfros, Sask.; Sergeant Archie Loach, Islington, Ont., and Sergeant Donald Morrison, Sherbrooke, Que.

Mrs. Ross Palmer, driving the automobile used by the King and Queen during the Royal visit in May, 1939, will leave the city for Patricia Bay at 9:15 o'clock Monday morning to meet the party at 10:30 o'clock.

CIVIC LUNCHEON

They will leave Patricia Bay at 10:30 o'clock and assemble before the R.C.A.F. band at Quadra Street and Pandora Avenue at 11:15 o'clock. Then they will proceed to the City Hall by way of Quadra, Yates and Douglas Streets.

At the City Hall the flyers will sign the distinguished visitors' book and receive suitably inscribed civic medallions from five members of the City Council. Headed by the R.C.A.F. band they will proceed along Douglas and Humboldt Streets to the Empress Hotel for a civic luncheon at 12:30 o'clock.

According to Alderman W. H. Davies, the flyers will be taken for a scenic drive at 2:30 o'clock by five Miss Canadas who are engaged in disposing of war savings stamps. They will proceed to Willows Park at 3:15 o'clock to see a featured horse race, and then visit the military hospital at Mount Tolmie at 3:45 o'clock. The schedule calls for a return to the Empress Hotel at 4:30 o'clock to depart for Patricia Bay fifteen minutes later.

VETERAN SERVED WITH TWO NAVIES

Edward S. Chappell, Resident of Victoria for Thirty-Two Years, Died on Tuesday

Edward Samuel Chappell, who saw action in the Solomon Islands fifty years ago with the Royal Navy, died Tuesday night in St. Joseph's Hospital at the age of seventy-eight years.

Born in Devonshire, England, he served with the British Navy, and during his term was a crew member aboard H.M.S. Rapid, a bark-rigged man-of-war, when that ship was sent to the Solomon Islands to disarm natives in the territory. E. S. Michell, city purchasing agent, was a shipmate.

Mr. Chappell transferred to the Canadian Navy during the Great War and returned to Victoria after peace had been declared. He lived thirty-two years in the city, making his home at 754 Kings Road, and was a life member of the Army and Navy Veterans, Victoria.

Surviving are a wife and daughter in England. The remains are at S. J. Curry Funeral Home, from where funeral arrangements will be announced later.

ROMMEL WON'T GET THIS ONE

Billows of smoke drift skyward from this Italian merchantman, one more supply ship which Rommel won't get in Egypt. Planes of the R.A.F., flying from their base in Malta, dropped their eggs of destruction on her decks. The ship was loaded with motor transports that may be seen on her smoking decks. The pilots of the planes left the ship floundering helplessly in the sea and she sank into Davy Jones' locker.

FAIR SUCCESS AT COBBLE HILL

Quality and Quantity of Exhibits Maintain High Standard

COBBLE HILL—The annual Fall Fair, sponsored by the Cobble Hill Shawnigan Farmers' Institute, was held here on Thursday afternoon.

While the attendance was slightly below pre-war level, officials said the fair was a complete success from the point of the number and the quality of the entries.

The various selections included classes in vegetables, field produce, fruit, dairy products, domestic science, honey, flowers, women's work, Solarium handiwork, horses, grade dairy cattle, grade sheep, swine and poultry.

Of special interest were the entries by the Children's Poultry Club organized by W. Norie; the Children's Calf Club, organized by A. Motherwell, assisted by the Provincial and Federal Governments, and the Children's Garden Club, sponsored by the Cobble Hill Women's Institute.

Girls Buy War Stamps

"OF course I buy War Savings Stamps—every week," said Miss Ruby Bickerdike, cashier in the stationery department at D. Spencer, Ltd., when a Miss Canada salesgirl stopped at her desk the other morning. "How many? Well, that depends. You see, I always budget my money when I get my pay envelope. So much for this, so much for that, right down the list. When I come to the end, whatever I have over goes into stamps. Maybe it's two stamps. If I'm lucky it's three. Some weeks, it's only one"—Ruby's grey eyes were earnest and her fair curls shook emphatically—"there is always enough for one stamp, though, you can depend on that." Asked by Miss Canada if buying these stamps every week means giving up something special, Miss Bickerdike shrugged her shoulders. "I guess perhaps I don't think of it in that way. I mean, as giving up something. It just seems right to help as much as I can. That goes for all the girls in the store, too. They buy War Savings Stamps, just like I do."

Tourist Business Continues Active

Because of increased travel over the Labor Day holiday, hotels in Victoria were filled, forcing latecomers to seek accommodation Upisland, while extra boats were needed to take care of traffic from the Mainland.

According to an official of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, tourists are still arriving in Victoria in large numbers. Usually the trade drops sharply the day after Labor Day. Only three or four per cent of the travelers brought automobiles, he said.

General tourist business throughout the Summer has been good under the circumstances, being about eighty per cent of the record total of last year, it was reported. Approximately half the usual number of Americans have spent holidays in the city this Summer, while Canadian business increased ten per cent over that of last year.

Every week-end throughout the Summer was particularly busy in this regard, it was stated.

Valerie—What sort of a chap is Rupert?

Verena—Well, when we were together last night the lights went out, and he spent the rest of the evening repairing the break.

It is now ILLEGAL to HOARD scrap steel or UNUSABLE machinery

The Steel Controller has ordered that, after September 15, 1942, no person may retain in his possession scrap iron or steel weighing a total of 500 pounds or more unless he has a permit.

(For the purposes of the new regulations, scrap metal includes machinery, structural steel, or any other article or commodity containing iron or steel, which is not serving an immediate vital purpose.)

The order also provides:

That anyone, coming into possession after September 15 of scrap iron or steel weighing 500 pounds or more, must dispose of it within 20 days.

That any person having a valid reason for not disposing of scrap metal as scrap metal or who believes that it can serve some essential purpose, must send in a report by September 15 to the Used Goods Administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Lumsden Building, Toronto. His report must reveal the exact description, quantity, and location of his scrap metal.

The provisions of the order do not apply to scrap dealers who are already subject to previous orders; nor do they affect metal fabricators and processors who are in legal possession of metal to be used in manufacturing.

A copy of the order, S.C. 16, may be obtained from the Steel Controller, Department of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa.

Infractions of the new regulations are subject to a fine of up to $5,000, or imprisonment of up to five years, or both fine and imprisonment.

Glancing Over Sport

By JOE DELAMOUNTY

IN THE MAIL BAG

Dear Sir:

[illegible] in the fans who have been selecting amateur teams which have been appearing in our columns lately. The boys have been picking some good clubs but my selections are a little different and I haven't chosen a single member of the team which I manage in the league outside of Pitcher Stan Curry.

Here's my team: Base Work first base Battle, Barraclef, second base, White, Menard shortstop Ian Lowe third base Stratton in left field Waterson, in centre and Restell in right, Harney catcher Drysmeah, Stubbs Gervais and Curry pitchers. Murray and Stronger spare infielders, Whitten, spare catcher Morgan and Bridgewood pinch-hitters Stronger and Harney, coaches Restell and Curry, umpires.

GEORGE SYROTUCK
Manager Eagles Club

Comment: Like the other teams I have already seen chosen, that's a pretty fair ball club in anybody's league. Every regular on the squad is a .300 hitter or better and its power at the plate which wins games these days. Lowe is clipping the ball at a terrific pace, being well over .400, while Waterheim is around the .350 mark. Barnewell, Menard and Stratten are above the .300 average. Chuck Restell is a good base runner, beautiful fielder and has the best throwing arm in the league. Laurel Harney handles his pitchers well and has lots of brains. Your pitching staff is strong, but what about a fellow named Tommy Musgrave? The former Capilano twirler can bear down when he wants to and deserves a spot.

ODDS AND ENDS

By the way that baseball letter which appeared in yesterday's column was written by Joe Hindin a strong diamond fan and the lad who ran the Brown Bombers in the second division a couple of years ago. His name was inadvertently omitted. . . . It was the last day of the Piedmont League season and with their places in the standings already settled, Charlotte and Asheville were out passing out the money so Manager Hardy Caldwell started his red-headed second string Catcher Odell Barbary on the mound. The other players were shifted out of position, and the game was strictly for fun with Asheville the twenty hitting with the same 3-1 decision received he had a ball game in hand. And old Rad Chapman was still pitching Pony Anderson back to their regular jobs at second, base, batting order, etc. In spite of the twenty-run handicap the Tourists gave Red Lucas no encore. When the rookie pitcher had five fled to the room of the second inning completed, the longest game in Piedmont history had elapsed with spectators leaving in droves every inning. Although not hitting as high as some of the guys I would put Chuck Restell, V.M.D. catcher, is also the most valuable player on the ball club, since he is a hot fielder, can run the bases with the best of them and can hit in the pinches. Restell is also among the leaders in the Victoria Baseball League batting race. Joe Louis and Billy Conn are going to box for the title in the Yankee ball park next month, for nothing, but the promoters will have a hard time getting Joe Louis to fight for nothing. Mike Jacobs, Louis' manager, is a smart boy and Mr. Louis, you are going to defend your crown on October 12 against Mr. Billy Conn whether you like it or not. It was a fight with both boys. So help me, and no alternative but to box. See.

FROM HERE AND THERE

Jimmy Spencer one of the flash footballers ever to break into a game in Vancouver, spent the past twenty years in Nova Scotia and working in one of the big shipyards. Jimmy was small, a fleet forward as all shifty fellows are. Dominion would want to say everything. Joe Hennessy, the big boss sportsmaster at the local ball games, the ad who takes all the [illegible] with the press box at Athletic Park, added a thirty foot grandstand at Colwood during the holidays. His wife had a salmon and bottle opener. Joe will wonder how I found out the name of the biggest fish he ever hooked. . . .

Sam Randall, British Columbia horse racing king, made a visit to the office yesterday for a chat. He looks just as good as ever and feels confident that Victorians will be watching one of the best meets in recent years. Sam told us that 125 horses arrived here yesterday and many more will be coming before the opening of Saturday. All the best horse flesh in the province will be over for the meeting and the best jockeys in these parts will be piloting the mounts to the finish line during the two-week programme. Two weeks before the first race at Hastings Park we only had about two jockeys available but now we have all we need. The crowd at the Vancouver track on Labor Day was one of the largest in the history of the track. They were jammed in like sardines, stated Mr. Randall. . . . Today Sam will head for the Willows track to make sure that everything is in readiness for the start of the final meet in the province.

K.V.'s WILL MEET

Members of the K.V.'s Club will meet at the Liberal Headquarters, 536 Broughton Street, Friday evening at 8 o'clock to discuss plans for the coming basketball season. All of last year's players and others interested are asked to attend.

V.M.D. Wins Final Baseball Fixture

City Champions Defeat "Rest of League" 5-1 in Exhibition Game—Gate Receipts for A.R.P. Fund—Gervais Hurls Four-Hit Ball

Victoria baseballers dropped the curtain on the 1942 season at Royal Athletic Park last night as an exhibition game between the city champion V.M.D. club and a picked team from the Rest of the League.

Manager Pat Steeves signed up Andrews and the latter had nothing on them during the five innings of the abbreviated contest. The opposition crossed it with their one marker in the fourth frame.

Joe Curry, pick of the Rest of the League, passed something of a surprise when he trotted Stan Curry, crack right-hander, to the mound. The wrong side hurler pitched smart ball for the first four innings but weakened in the fifth when the V.M.D. bunched three hits for a pair of markers.

However, Manager Joe Casey had confidence in the moundsman and turned him out for the sixth and final frame, but Curry failed to finish the game. The young moundsman had trouble finding the plate and passed up free trips to the initial on three batters and seemed lost for control. He was then relieved by the mound in favor of Jimmy Stratton, junior hurler from the Capilano nines and the crafty southpaw settled down to pitch winning ball. The visitors failed to force in the final run of the game and then fanned Restell to end the inning.

Curry was hooked for nine safeties and charged with six of the V.M.D. runs during his five and two-third innings of the start. He walked five and fanned an equal number.

GERVAIS IN FORM

Ronnie Gervais, portsider, worked for the city champs like a veteran heads out. He allowed four safeties on five chances and retired six via the strikeout route. Four players reached first on free transportation.

Reg Patterson, [illegible] replaced Lauri Harney behind the plate for VMD catcher behind the game and was quite at home at his old berth.

Barrie Battle, ace relief pitcher [illegible] of the Rest of the League, pulled out of his usual role after Reg Patterson had relieved Joe Curry and paced the V.M.D. attack with two safeties out of three trips to the plate.

Victoria Baseball Association officials are right anticipating a big [illegible] for the game which will be played [illegible] Baseball League Week. The Major [illegible] are scheduled to play a double [illegible] and the proceeds are to be donated to the local A.R.P. fund. [illegible] seat admission.

FIGHTERS TO OPEN CAMPS

Joe Louis and Billy Conn Are Given Permission to Train For Title Scrap

FORT RILEY, Kan., Sept. 9 (AP)—With brand new apparel and pipes added to his training kit, Joe Louis left this city today on the first leg of a journey that will lead to a fight with Billy Conn in New York on October 12 in defence of his heavyweight boxing crown.

Louis was completely unexpected, so urgent was a few hours before he departed for Kansas City. At the same time he was granted an emergency thirty-day furlough which will give him four days to return to camp after the fight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—Pte. Harry Craig, remembered by readers from the War Department at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, will step into the ring with Joe Louis for the world heavyweight championship on October 12. He promptly packed up and left for a brief visit to his home in Pittsburgh.

Craig was right training at Rumson, N.J., on Monday. Louis is due here on Friday and also is expected to start training on Monday at Greenwood Lake, N.Y.

FORGET THE BAD SHOTS—THE GOOD ONES TOO

The memory of a good shot will often carry some duffers happily through a maze of bad ones while others will let the disappointment of a flubbed shot influence their play for some little time. In either event the score is bound to mount up. Corporal Bud Ward has quite a different philosophy and it might not be a bad idea for less skilled players to follow it. No matter how successful or unsuccessful, a certain shot is Ward dismisses it from his mind entirely after it has been made. This leaves him free to devote his full concentration to the next shot. In this way he steers clear of the tension, which seems to be the penalty of the chronic worrier. Such a mental outlook can tie up the stroke to enough knots to make a smooth swing next to impossible.

On the other hand the player who relishes the memory of an excellent shot can become too careless over the shot at hand. Ward's idea of dismissing the shot which has been played is not new. Walter Hagen had much the same technique. Walter never worried over a bad shot. He considered it merely a rub of the game and that more than likely the ball would be in a position on the next shot which would enable him to make up for it.

Sewell Doesn't Mind

By JOHN LARDNER

(North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 — Lucius Sewell, the American League's latest pick-up genius, was not reluctant to discuss his ball club. Why should he be? The Browns of St. Louis are very genteel citizens these days, moving in the best society.

I have known Brownie managers who would gladly talk of anything from taxes to dairy farming—anything but the Browns. At the meetings of the athletes they managed, these gentlemen would reach stealthily into their pockets for a couple of packets of aspirin and turn the conversation to the political situation in Pawtucket, R.I.

BROWNS ARE DIFFERENT

Mr. Sewell is different, because the Browns are different.

There is not a bad ball club said the crafty Alabaman, surveying his turf, its practice before a double-header with the New York Yankees. It is not a very good club, but it's not bad, not bad at all. I'm taking no bows for the fact that the boys are in third place, because that's where they belong. Right around there somewhere.

"You can see the kind of club it is. Some good young players and a few old fellows with noodles on their shoulders. That's the material you have to have to win ball games. As we stand we don't figure to panic the Yankees (to much-advertised circuit) or Boston (too much hitting there and too much of this here new Hutchison, though we did hang it on him the other day). Our speed right now is Cleve and and Detroit. Remember we have to beat these two clubs and make it stick before we can start counting third-place money. This race ain't over for us.

But what I'm getting at we're going somewhere and they're not. This club has got ambition. The Cleveland club they didn't have much but Feller and when they lost him, well, I don't see how they're going to cause much trouble in the next couple of seasons.

PITCHERS KNOW HOW

"They tell me my pitching don't look so hot on paper. That's a heel of a place to look not. These fellas that are winning for me Asker, Gasehouse Niggeling have been around and they know where to throw the ball. What do you think is winning for Lyons and Ruffing and those old fellas? Hard stuff? No no. They've been around and they know what to do out there. That's about it.

Now the rest of my team look pretty good. Leads is hitting this year. Johnson is a nice ball player, and Tommy (or Stephens is all you hear. Everywhere I go they talk Stephens to me. Is he as good as it is said? Is he as good as that guy? Well I got a good enough for me. He's a pretty fair shortstop in the field and he drives in the runs. The boy has got a good power and a nice eye. Even talk about young Perks at Boston. I won't give Stephens up for him. That's no knock at Perks, mind you. Boston maybe don't need Stephens power with all the power pitchers they got up there. But I need it.

You keep your eye on this boy of mine. He's helped the club more than I have, said Mr. Sewell modestly.

It is a pleasure to keep an eye on Stephens. He has the look of a first-class ball player. And as what you like about the genius of Mr. Sewell, which is doubtless the best brand—a baseball team does not move upward as forcefully as the Browns unless it has good ball players. The Browns had a few in 1925 and 1928, when they finished third, and it had them on the great St. Louis team of 1922. George Sisler, Ken Williams, Baby Doll Jacobson and others.

It is rather sad to think that any major league ball club should have to look back on a team that finished second as its "great" team the greatest in its history. The Browns have yet to win a pennant. Maybe Mr. Lucius Sewell will be able to do something about that.

Sports Snapshots

By SCOTT YOUNG

Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (CP) — The word is afoot that the Canadian Basketball Association may be the next one of sports organization to fold for the duration. It was been more difficult to keep going than some others because of its many years ago British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec have been producing good teams. Box Scores has the same trouble but there are no signs of retrenchment in that sport. Chess and some connected with boxing is too tough to retreat. Pop Egan, the noted Brooklyn Americans bad man, is hated thoroughly by one and all among British Columbia lacrosse followers. He plays defence for Vancouver Norvans, the club New Westminster Salmonbellies are playing in the Coast final. Strangely enough the referees treat him like a little angel. He had only eighteen minutes in penalties this season. Major Fred Hume of New Westminster has promised the Salmonbellies he'll fly them East for the Bowla play-offs if they win the British Columbia crown. That'd make New Westminster's two Ontario-trained players, Bill Wilkes (Orillia) and Ed Downey, St. Catharines, hit the opposish with increased enthusiasm.

INCIDENTALLY

Jack (Command) Standard-Freeholder) Park comments thusly on military sport: "If the service clubs put the accent on entertainment and recreation rather than on the winning of titles the real peace of sport in the war effort will be attained." When writing of the Sports Service League's activities the other day I forgot to mention the money spent so far on sports equipment for soldiers $——. For instance Al Pierce, Moore sees Lieut. Lefty Gordon's dog as a big-league owner as an indication the Alberta boxers will stay with the horses whenever has a long white beard. Harness-racing men hit their prime about fifty-five to sixty, some even later. That despite the strength and skill required in this gentle home's branch of the equine sports. For my money harness racing is the better sport to watch.

Fandy Brannigan, Bill Jards and Wally Stanowski, all wear the same uniform both at work and at play this year. They're with the RCAF in Winnipeg and will be in the backfield of P.O. Bob Fritz' team in the Winnipeg City League. They Montreal yesterday — not because there weren't plenty of players but because the players wanted to spend the holiday rest as like other people. It's a refreshing approach.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 9 (CP) — New Westminster Salmonbellies [illegible] their best offensive effort [illegible] Vancouver Norvans in the Inter-City Lacrosse League finals here tonight when they pasted the shipbuilders 17-9 in a game that ended in a wild riot in which a couple of policemen were called in to restore peace.

The Salmonbellies had little trouble at any time during the game leading 5-0 at the first, 8-4 at the second and 11-7 at the third.

The riot started five minutes before the final whistle when Pat Egan of Norvans was banished to the penalty box after an attack on Allen Askew of Salmonbellies. Egan was dragged to the box swinging and the whole New Westminster team was soon in on the fight.

Several spectators who got in the way were battered about a bit and two policemen were called in before the players were separated.

Kip Routley of Salmonbellies led the scoring parade with five scores in seven shots. Jimmy Douglas and Bill Wilkes also of Salmonbellies scored four each.

NOTED ALSAB IS DEFEATED

Loses Out to Marriage in Big Handicap Event at Washington Park

CHICAGO, Sept. 9 (CP) — Marriage, a six-year-old gelding which ran in cheap $1,000 claiming races only two years ago, upset the famed Alsab in the $32,800 Washington Park Handicap, stunning a holiday crowd of 38,000.

Alsab, seeking to sweep on, his impressive comeback campaign, was beaten by a length with Thumbs Up third, a neck further back than came Anti-Climax, another nose behind Thumbs Up in a field of nine. Marriage, ridden by Jockey Charles Corbett, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:02 2-5.

Fifth turning into the stretch, Alsab owned by Mrs. A. Sabath of Chicago, made a determined bid under strong urging by Jockey Al Robertson. The three-year-old colt, winner of the $50,000 American Derby recently, could not quite make it however as Marriage closed with a powerful drive.

Marriage, owned by the California turf firm of R. A. Coward and Carl Du Pree, has won several stakes for his present owners. Today's triumph being the most important.

Marriage earned $25,200 by his victory and boosted his 1942 winnings to $86,300. The son of Attention, Player paid $14.80, $4.80 and $3.20. Alsab paid $9 and $2.60 and Thumbs Up returned $6.20. Of the $141,908 wagered on the race $64,421 went on Alsab.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9 (AP) — Ripe Weaver of New York Giants, for several years the outstanding third sacker in the National League, announced today that he will retire from baseball at the end of the current season. His decision is the result of an injured toe which has kept him out of play since May.

Course Reversed Of Most Stocks On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP).—After adding moderately to the previous day's gains in the first hour the stock market reversed its course today and ended with most leaders fractionally lower.

Profit selling in American Telephone, Westinghouse, U.S. Steel and other key issues arrested the early advance.

In the late proceedings a number of utility preferred stocks and specialties were bid up fractions to around 2 points.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks dipped .1 of a point to 37.1. Transactions totaled 361,980 shares compared with 399,130 on Tuesday.

Lower closings included Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Western Union, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak and Chesapeake & Ohio.

A few of the isolated rises were based on special developments. U.S. Leather prior preferred climbed 2 1-8 on the declaration of an $8 dividend on account of arrears. American Airlines scored a modest advance on the company's report for the first half showing net equal to $1.91 a share against $1.32 for the like 1941 period.

UNFAIR ADVANTAGE

By CAROL BROWN

(Copyright, 1942, by Carol Brown)

CHAPTER XV

The last of the asters and goldenrod spread a rich carpet up the hillside. But for Amy everything had gone ugly.

"I thought you said you earned your own way throught art school," she said.

Paul still didn't look at her. "I did manage to here in Cincinnati. But for my three years' study in Europe—" he spoke bitterly—"Marcia paid for my tuition, my trip over, my room and board. She even paid for my cigarettes. And for the parties I gave for other students."

He paused for awhile. "Well, say it!" There was nothing in his face or voice now to remind her that a moment ago he'd said he loved her. "Say I'm a gigolo."

"What makes you think I want to say that?" she asked unconvincingly.

"Oh, I know. It's what you think. It's what everybody thinks as soon as they hear it."

She tried to speak, but the words choked in her throat.

They heard a long "Ha-looo" from the top of the cliff. Then Daphne's voice called, "Tudor, Tudor, I see you."

And Guy Dillingham shouted, "Coming down!"

Paul muttered something under his breath. His black eyebrows drew together. He seemed suddenly a stranger. Amy had never liked him so little as she did then.

"I tell you I—wasn't to blame. I couldn't help it if she wanted to—I——"

"No. I suppose you couldn't help it," she echoed.

He couldn't help it that his smile was sweet and disarming. He couldn't help it that his hair was curly and black like that. He couldn't help it that he had a special way of looking at a girl—as if she were the only person who existed for him at the moment. He wasn't to blame if a silly girl, riding over the hills from Washington with him, fell in love just because his arm happened to be around her. He wasn't to blame if a rich girl decided to spend a small fortune on him. No, he wasn't to blame if the girl decided. But he needn't have accepted money. He was to blame for that.

All these thoughts were formulated in the back of Amy's mind. She probably would have expressed them had not a shower of pebbles rushed down the slope. Looking up they saw Marcia peering at them through the bushes at the top of the five-foot drop. A brown leaf was caught in her bright hair. There was a scratch across her nose where the little freckles showed up.

"Catch me, Paul. I'm going to jump," she said breathlessly.

Paul held out his arms as he had for Amy a short time before. She jumped, then clung to him for a second. Still holding his arm, she turned, laughing, to Amy—so unembarrassed, so sure of herself. It never occurred to her to wonder why Paul was alone there with Amy. Life had been so good to her. There wasn't any doubt in her.

But Paul seemed to feel that an explanation was in order.

"I was standing outside the garden gate feeling as alone as Robinson Crusoe," he told Marcia, "when the gate opened and Miss Tudor walked right into me. Before she could recover from the shock I had her headed for the studio. That's the way to get a woman to look at your pictures."

It wasn't what he said, it was the way he said it. So guiltily, it made Amy feel like a sneak. Like an outsider, too, pushed to the edge of the group, an employee brought along on sufferance.

She was glad when Guy Dillingham leaped down the embankment and then held out his arms to Daphne, who flew through the air.

"The girl on the flying trapeze," Guy sang in a pleasant baritone as he set her on the ground.

"Hey, Tudor," Daphne cried, "I had a quarrel at the party and I swapped a little boy and they had to bring me home. I scratched him, too. And then I kicked him——"

"And she didn't do any better at Frani's party either," her father interrupted. "Marcia didn't seem to be enjoying herself, so we formed a searching party to hunt you up."

"Anyway I wanted to show Guy some of the things we'd done to the studio," Marcia chimed in.

We! The pronoun struck the centre of Amy's hurt and bewilderment. She was glad that Marcia took Paul's hand and ran ahead of them along the path that led to the studio. She was glad Guy Dillingham walked with her. His very presence was steading. Not looking at him, not bothering to talk—you didn't have to talk to Guy Dillingham—she felt his strength and kindliness.

Daphne clung to her father's hand on one side and to Amy's on the other. Occasionally she would lift her feet clear of the ground and swing between them.

"Here, young lady," he reminded her good-naturedly, "my arm isn't an exercise bar. Neither is Miss Tudor's."

CHURCH CELEBRATES

HALIFAX, Sept. 9 (CP).—A month-long celebration of the anniversary of the opening of St. Paul's Anglican Church here, oldest Protestant church in the Dominion, begins this week, with the four Sundays being devoted to special services for the armed forces. The cathedral was opened 192 years ago.

Youthful Father: Our baby is beginning to recite "Baa, baa, black sheep, have you any wool?"

Neighbor: And he's only eight months' old?

Father: Well, he doesn't say all of it yet, but he's got as far as the "Baa, baa."

EXHIBITION OF PRINTS PLANNED

Victoria Salon of Photography Is to Stage Second Annual Exhibit in Empress Hotel in October

The second annual international Victoria Salon of Photography will be staged in Victoria late in October. The last day for receiving prints is September 26, and directors of the [illegible] Association recommend that local exhibitors have their prints in on time. Entry forms may be had at any of the camera stores.

At an executive meeting on Sunday evening, reports were given by various officers. The salon last year was the first of its kind to be held in Victoria, and Ken McAllister, president, said that not only was it an agreeable surprise to photographic fans of Victoria, but the judging and handling of the exhibit had proved acceptable to successful exhibitors all over the continent.

"For example, prints have already been received from Ernest Berger, A.R.P.S., Chicago; Rowena Fruth, Connersville, Indiana; Cecil B. Atwater, Newtonville, Mass.; Dr. Max Thorek, F.R.P.S., Chicago, and many others."

IN EMPRESS HOTEL

The show this year will be held in the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel, and will be open to the public. Catalogues will be printed listing the prints selected by the judges for hanging.

"The directors of the Victoria Photographic Association, who were elected at the annual meeting last November, wish to encourage local [illegible] by becoming members and by entering prints in this exhibition," said Mr. McAllister. "They feel that it is a valuable cultural contribution to the life of Victoria, which entails very little financial outlay, and provides incentive to better work in this widespread hobby."

BULK OF RATION BOOKS RECEIVED

Local Office Now Dealing With Cases In Which Changes of Address Have Occurred

The outstanding task of the local ration office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, now that it has distributed 150,000 permanent ration books to residents of Victoria and Vancouver Island, is to deal with persons whose addresses have been changed since the temporary books were issued.

Where forwarding addresses were left at the Postoffice, books are being returned to the ration office in order that a record of the new address can be made. It is expected some of these persons, and others who have not left forwarding addresses, will be required to wait for about a week before the permanent books are received.

Although the permanent books were made to be effective on September 7, temporary ration cards are still valid. It was pointed out, however, that while tea and coffee coupons on the temporary cards are good for one week's supply, those in the permanent books are used for the purchase of a two-week ration.

If September 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 to 9 a.m., from 5 to 7 p.m. and from 9 to 11 p.m.

An insatiable desire to hear the sound of their own voices will lead many people to indulge in needless foolish, aimless chatter on September 10. September 10 will be a decidedly inauspicious day on which to go on the theory that "a poor excuse is better than none," for it is liable to be questioned. Do not waste time in rehashing unpleasant incidents of the past on this date, for if you live in the present you will find the way to plan successfully for the future. Current events make it advisable for you to be conservative in considering investments. Married and engaged couples, and those who have succumbed to love's magic, will do well to remember that all mankind loves a lover and seldom is ready to condone those who permit their love to be smothered under a display of sheer indifference.

If you are a woman and September 10 is your birthday, do not allow yourself to get into the habit of being continually suspicious of the motives behind the thoughtful attentions of your family and friends. Place as much value on maintaining the approval of the most humble as you do on that of the highest, and your popularity will grow apace and prove to be an invaluable asset. If you are as ever-ready to give as you are to receive, you will find yourself the recipient of many favors. As an accountant, instructress, welfare worker, technician, dietitian, trained nurse, lecturer, actress, author, artist, musician, singer or in some managerial capacity you may win financial independence and numerous admirers. Your intuition, judgment and tact ought to make it easy for you to make your marriage a success in every respect.

The child born on September 10 ought to have, during his formative years, impressed upon him the importance of adhering to the truth, for a reputation for veracity may have a beneficial effect on his future.

If you are a man and September 10 is your natal day, your unusually active mind may need careful direction if it is to get practical results. Do your dreaming at night and not during the day if you desire to make the progress you should. As a photographer, astronomer, sales agent, inventor, engineer, scientist, publisher, journalist, writer, actor, singer, musician, business executive or in war work you may have many reasons to feel proud of your accomplishments.

But it wasn't until after they were married that he discovered she had been giving him the shop weights to carry home every night.
